Address Service Requested

A WORD ABOUT RENEWALS:

Despite having already renewed their Memberships for 2016, a number of Members have received duplicate solicitations. If this is the case, SIMPLY IGNORE SUBSEQUENT RENEWALS NOTIFICATIONS.

There is always a delay between the receipt of a Member's Renewals and its notation in the Membership Rolls, so occasional "double-billing" can accidentally occur.

It is NOT necessary to use a CofCC Self-Addressed-Stamped-Envelope to inform us of this fact: Moreover each of these SASE costs us $0.57, unless stamped by the sender.

POSTSCRIPT ABOUT THE CITIZENS INFORMER:

Each CITIZENS INFORMER currently costs about $2.65 to print and mail. If a copy is returned to us by the Postal Service, the additional cost of each returned copy is $3.36.

For this reason, we strongly urge Members who are equipped to do so, to receive the Electronic Edition as e-mail. The advantage to the organization is that it costs nothing to print or mail an issue using e-mail. If everyone would do this, we could dramatically reduce the cost of Membership Renewals, since the paper is by far, our largest expense. One advantage to Members of subscribing electronically is that they will often receive their paper a week or more in advance of those delivered by the Postal Service.

A second advantage is that future Electronic Editions will often have additional articles and Letters to the Editor, since it does not have the space limitations of the Hard Copy Edition. SEE THE BONUS SECTION IN THIS ISSUE - PAGE 37

PLEASE DO NOT EVER SEND US A LETTER INDICATING THAT YOU DO NOT WISH TO RECEIVE THE E-MAIL EDITION OF THE PAPER: We assume that only those who submit the blue form wish to receive the "e-mail" edition, and anyone not using the blue form wishes to receive the "hard-copy" edition.

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

By Sid Secular, Managing Editor

IT'S ONE MINUTE TO MIDNIGHT

The brutal and overwhelming fact is that Whites are slowly descending into oblivion. All the trends are against us: It's reached the point where -- in their minds -- our end is justified by their means.

We idealize our brave ancestors—real White men who actually fought their enemies, with or without weapons in their hands. Now, even the police are vilified (and assassinated) for using justifiable force against feral ghetto residents and other swarthy criminal invaders.

Right now, the White race is facing an extinction event in their homelands due to the abolition of natural borders and the suspension of anything resembling immigration laws. Here in the USA, we're basically doing nothing to prevent our own genocide. At least at the moment, we think we have Donald Trump to do battle for us. He's awakened long suppressed residual instincts in us.

Europe seems like a buffer but it won't be for long with Muslim terrorists entrenched everywhere and waiting for the signal to create havoc. The so-called terror attacks to date are but mere pinpricks compared to the big dirty bomb and chemical or biological assaults to come. Meanwhile, Muslims are literally beheading priests at the altar and stabbing and slashing White people with knives on the streets of Europe.

Adherents of this "religion of peace and tolerance" are also busily raping women by the thousands, with the stated intention of impregnating their victims with brown babies in order to pollute and destroy our bloodlines: That's what the ISIS terrorists are claiming in their own media and websites. They have historic precedent for these outrages, and they think in terms of centuries and long-term goals, not the latest fashion trends.

We are no longer waiting for the balloon to burst: It already did so when America's answer to Third World dictatorship abolished our borders with the stroke of his pen on November 20, 2014. The spineless quislings and collaborators known as RINOs caved under the threat of being labeled "racist" if they had opposed him.

In Europe, some resistance to this unprecedented invasion is developing in the form of minor scuffles, petty vandalism, and burning down refugee holding pens, done when the buildings were empty in order to avoid real injury. A small number of invaders are randomly being returned to their nations of origin.

The only exception to this are some really black Africans and Algerians and Moroccans, who are correctly recognized as bottom feeders looking for handouts, and not legitimate refugees. 80% of the invaders are just such "economic migrants" with no marketable skills.

Several Eastern European countries are holding the line and keeping the invaders out, a task sometimes requiring as many as three parallel fences to do the trick. These are people who have not lost their instinct for survival, and don't want their cultures adulterated.

The invaders are often forced to find other means of access, such as soft-hearted Italians with equally soft heads, who pluck large numbers of invaders from their improvised "vessels" found in coastal waters, and invite them to reunite with the invading forces already landed.

European authorities (many as spineless and traitorous as our own,) have swung into action to arrest and imprison many Whites who dare to criticize the invaders on social media. German citizens are sitting in jail cells for saying unkind things about Angela Merkel on Facebook. Germans are being forced to provide social services to migrants and to "quarter" them in their own residences. In Britain, people have been arrested for posting comments critical of Prime Minister Teresa May or demanding implementation of Brexit.

We respond to all of this with symbolic acts, such as posting pictures of guns, Vikings, SS men, and Confederate soldiers or flags, or racist T-shirts with runes and similar symbols. This is probably the only war in history where only one side is really fighting. Aside from a few shouted words, a bit of scuffling initiated by the “bad guys,” and setting fires in empty buildings, there is little “push-back” from our side.

The invaders appear perfectly content, except to gripe about the food they’re served, or not being supplied with the latest cell phones. This absence of an appropriate response is the result of 50 years of leftist indoctrination, which has emasculated White males, who have become cowed by the twin stigmas of slavery and “white privilege.”

Apparently, even issues involving our very survival as a race are inadequate to move us to forcibly resist. Maybe it requires the accumulation of thousands of not-so-petty injuries and injustices to ignite a fire under us. Perhaps a dismal lack of job prospects -- such as being forced to live in your parents’ basement or being forced to deliver pizzas 3 nights per week -- will do the trick.

Unfortunately, the increasing drug epidemic among lower and middle class Whites is dulling our senses and sense of outrage, and militating against any resistance or reaction. The dissolution of White family life is due to a number of problems generated by trying to survive in a society that is increasingly sick, unhinged, and unnatural, and this also militates against meaningful, coordinated action.

Growing up in the 50s and 60s, I don’t remember a single divorced couple or single-parent family (let alone a homo “family”) in our circle of acquaintances, even in the New York City suburbs.

Many years ago, a Hungarian freedom fighter who fought the Soviet tanks in 1956 with a few Molotov cocktails, said to a White nationalist, “you are trying to fight the greatest evil humanity has ever known with nothing but words, and that is why you will fail.” So it has come to pass.

For over 70 years, with a few notable exceptions, we have been attempting to secure the existence of our people and a future for White children with nothing but words. One crusade after another has tried the same, tired methods, and foundered on our refusal to undergo any genuine risk or inconvenience. Unless there is an abrupt, meaningful change in our course, we will become extinct like the dodo bird or passenger pigeon.

This is an incitement to change, but not to engage in violence or criminal activity. The Dylann Roofs of this world do the cause immeasurable harm, and provide the Corrupt Leftist Media with ammunition they couldn’t have purchased, invented or manufactured.

It is obvious that the only way there can be change in this putrid society is for us to get off our asses and physically change things. Whatever must be done to recover White control of some portion of the Earth must be done now. It cannot be done through the usual political methodology. You must participate in political, social, and economic resistance in some form other than words, although words are a necessary adjunct to physical action.

This participation can be anything, and it doesn’t have to be direct action. You must transform yourself into the kind of man or woman your great-grandfather would admire. We can’t afford to slough things off with glib excuses and rationalizations such as “Things have to get worse before they can get better.” This truism may apply to alcoholics, but it does not apply to civilizations.

A simple, legal thing you can do is kick in $10 per month to an action oriented organization such as the Council of Conservative Citizens, the Traditionalist Worker Party, or The American Freedom Union. You won’t miss one less six-pack of beer a month, right? Beyond that, you have to leave worthy nationalist organizations with sizeable bequests in your will, and do it now before you forget. The other charities you are inclined to favor with your bequests have thousands of supporters and can get along without you.

You must support the White nationalist movement with something besides words and playing with keyboards. Your involvement should include direct interactions with Caucasian human beings, if possible: That type of involvement, where you actually look into someone’s eyes, has almost ceased in the world of social media and the internet, and has resulted in the increasing isolation of the White male from society, especially with our increasing isolation from women of our race.

While you’re at it, unplug the TV and use that saved time for social activities and meeting with other activists.

LESSONS FROM TRUMP'S VICTORY

By Earl P. Holt III

There are still enough decent and honorable people in this country to offset the individuals engaged in raping, pillaging and subverting America in the name of "social justice," "multiculturalism," egalitarianism, Zionism, or some equally phony and misguided variant of Marxism.

However, Donald Trump's stunning victory is merely the first in what is certain to be a protracted series of skirmishes and larger battles. The task of saving this great nation from the devastation wrought by Marxist and Zionist traitors cannot be accomplished overnight, and will require a sustained effort through many election cycles.

TRUE "DEMOCRATS"

One thing is certain: The GOP is infinitely more "democratic" than the New Marxist Party, often mistakenly referred to as "Democrats." Our bare-knuckle Republican Primary was not "fixed" -- as the "Democrat" Primary was -- and produced a nominee who was victorious despite being opposed by elitist and traitorous elements within his own party.

Donald Trump was nominated by the Republican Party's rank and file, not its elitist "Donor Class" or timid "Establishment": This resulted in the nomination of an outsider, and one who vowed to "drain the swamp" of Washington corruption and cronyism. Trump's candidacy differed dramatically from those of the usual cowards, quislings and collaborators the GOP "Establishment" prefers to nominate.

For decades, an army of Republican National Committee (RNC) consultants preached the need for GOP candidates to reach out to traditionally Democrat voters, such as blacks, Hispanics and union members. Trump did exactly this, but was denounced by the Republican Establishment and its "Donor Class" anyway, revealing their true agenda to be maintaining their own power and influence.

The 2016 GOP Primary stands in stark contrast to the "Democrat" Primary, which we now know with certainty was rigged from the very beginning to nominate Hillary Clinton, the Organized Crime candidate. The DNC even conspired with the Corrupt Leftist Media to ensure that Hillary was nominated, and the two worked hand-in-glove with each other to produce such a result.

The revelation that Donna Brazile fed debate questions to Hillary Clinton before her televised debates -- and the ongoing conspiracy between the Democrat National Committee and the Clinton Campaign -- proves a level of corruption that every conservative in the United States has recognized for decades. The Corrupt Leftist Media has truly been exposed as biased, dishonest and contemptible heirs to PRAVDA, TASS and THE DAILY WORKER, just as we always knew them to be.

Moreover, it shouldn't come as a surprise to any honest person that there is nothing "democratic" about the "Democrat" Party. The so-called "Democrat" Party is really America's "New Marxist Party," having made the Communist Party of the United States superfluous, by virtue of stealing every issue the CPUSA ever held near and dear.

MOUNT RUSHMORE

Rush Limbaugh correctly called this election for Trump, because he never allowed himself to be distracted by phony "push-polls," designed to discourage Trump voters and encourage members of the New Marxist Party to vote early and often (or from their grave).

Like Rudyard Kipling's "If," Rush never lost his head, "...while all those about him were losing theirs."

For many months, Rush eschewed what he referred to as the "conventional wisdom" of pundits from both sides, arguing that conventional wisdom is really just the misapplication of old "playbooks" from the past. It was Rush who recognized that old playbooks were useless in such an unconventional election, and correctly predicted Trump's victory.

Unfortunately, most Republicans in Congress made the mistake of listening to the RNC's "Prophets of Conventional Wisdom" rather than to Rush. These RNC consultants converted most Republican Congressmen into the geldings who rubber-stamped Obama treason for eight years. A thorough house cleaning at the RNC and the Republican Congressional Caucus is long overdue.

Here are some examples of the kind of "Conventional Wisdom" these Prophets were paid large sums to disseminate to Republican office-holders and the GOP rank and file:

The GOP must embrace amnesty for illegal aliens, to avoid offending Hispanic voters; Republicans must avoid negative campaigning; The GOP must abandon its Pro-Life platform to attract female voters; Republican candidates must embrace "bipartisanship"; And, most pernicious of all, Republicans must move to the left in order to attract "Independents."

In truth, such "wisdom" was actually disinformation concocted by the Corrupt Leftist Media, which was then parroted by political consultants on both sides until it eventually became the perceived wisdom of the political class.

Why the GOP's mortal enemies would offer their sincere advice in order to benefit the GOP is apparently a question none of them ever had the sense to ask.

THE "POLITICAL CLASS"

More than anything, Trump's election is a repudiation of the past 50-year rule by our self-anointed "Political Class." Like the "Nomenklatura" who ruled the former Soviet Union, our "Political Class" consists of elitists from both parties, united in their desire to retain power and feather their own nests. All have completely lost sight of the fact that the American People are "sovereign," not some self-anointed Political Elite.

For many decades, this Political Elite has misguided both domestic and foreign policy in pursuit of fawning "puff-pieces" from the Corrupt Leftist Media, who in turn, are the PR firms and cheerleaders for Zionism and international socialism. Each has done grave harm to both the Constitution and to the fabric of our political and cultural institutions.

George Orwell once remarked that "some ideas are so absurd that only an intellectual could believe them." Looking at the conventional wisdom held dear by our Political Elite, one is obliged to give Orwell long overdue credit.

One particular notion held dear by our Political Class is that "multiculturalism" is beneficial to a dynamic American economy and culture, which is their motivation for amnesty and open borders. Few seem to recognize that all this does is attract the dregs of the Third World, most of whom immediately get on welfare, as 71% of all Hispanic Immigrant families have done.

However, the one thing our Political Class is skilled at is insulating itself from the ravages of its own failed policies. After all, the children of our "Political Class" need never compete with immigrants for employment or academic opportunities, just as our Political Class need never live in the squalid barrios and ghettos their policies have created.

Needless to say, the children of our Political Class will always be welcome to attend Sidwell Friends, and will never be bused to violent and heavily-integrated schools to achieve "racial balance."

Our scheming and devious Republican members of the Political Class revealed their true priorities in this election, as well: Their number one agenda was to hold onto their positions, power and sinecures.

THE FRAMER'S GENIUS

Finally, credit must also be given to the genius of the Framers of the Constitution, whose wisdom clearly benefited from Divine Guidance when conceiving The Electoral College.

The Framers correctly recognized that the Electoral College ensures that voting irregularities in any given state are essentially contained or "quarantined" within that state's borders, and not permitted to "spill over" and nullify legitimate votes from other states.

For example, there was certainly massive voter fraud committed by Illegal Aliens in places such as California, New York, and Illinois. Although these fraudulent votes may have produced victories for the New Marxist Party within the borders of each of these states, nevertheless, their influence on the General Election was limited to the number of Electoral Votes each state possessed, which were predetermined by the 2010 Census.

If the U.S. ever makes the mistake of abolishing the Electoral College – and elects the President by Popular Vote – states such as New York or California could easily swing the Presidency with tens of millions of illegal votes.

Voter fraud is unquestionably one of the New Marxist Party's electoral strategies: However, thanks to the Framers and their conception of an Electoral College, such a corrupt electoral strategy is minimized by our current system. (END)

HOW TO WRECK A GREAT CIVILIZATION

First Step: "Deconstructing" a Nation's Economy

By Tom Conway

If there is a recipe for destroying a society -- for bringing its roof down on the heads of its occupants -- one of the first steps is to spend it into bankruptcy. Once a society's financial system is destroyed by conspiracy or incompetence, the rest of that society will begin to collapse, pillar by pillar.

As any spendthrift knows, insolvency is easy for individuals to achieve and only slightly more complicated for nations. Historically, many nations have achieved destitution by embracing and promoting socialism, a form of government in which taxation is relentlessly used to penalize those who create wealth, after which, what remains is redistributed to supporters of those in power, perpetuating the status quo.

Because this arrangement penalizes those who work, save and take risks – while rewarding the indolent – it shrinks the ranks of the former, while swelling the ranks of the latter. Eventually, the inevitable and onerous tax burden makes everyone poorer. Winston Churchill once said, "Socialism is a philosophy of failure, the creed of ignorance, and the gospel of envy. Its inherent virtue is the equal sharing of misery."

This was a warning worth heeding, yet despite the visible wreckage of socialist experiments the world over, Britain, America and other Western nations plunged headlong into "the equal sharing of misery" like moths to the flame.

Ironically, in the West, socialism is no longer introduced by external forces headquartered in places like Moscow and Havana: Instead, it is aggressively promoted from inside, as these nations are “reinvented” from within. Almost half the U.S. population now receives some form of public assistance, a reality that was unthinkable just two generations ago. We have gone from a thrifty and self-reliant stock to one in which every second person relies on some form of government handout. Over time, these handouts have swelled into huge “Entitlement” programs, whose funding requirements have generated a $19 Trillion National Debt.

Already, nearly one out of every four dollars spent by the U.S. Government must be borrowed -- often, from foreign nations -- instead of being raised by taxes. As other nations become wary of our debt, they also become wary of the U.S. dollar, which is used as a “reserve currency” for transactions all over the world. As the dollar becomes more suspect, it is increasingly diminished in value. As it lessens in value, the Feds have resorted to a variety of measures best described as “legerdemain,” to delay the inevitable.

A time of economic instability is on the horizon, because in the near future we will have difficulty merely paying the interest on our $19 Trillion National Debt. At some point, a cataclysmic devaluation of the dollar must certainly occur, along with a general collapse of the economy. This will be accompanied by spiraling inflation similar to that seen in Weimar Germany. And if our debt woes do not portend an economic disaster, then we will have miraculously escaped the fate of every other nation throughout history that has similarly spent and borrowed its way into financial ruin.

It is far likelier that our entire national monetary system will implode and, for the purpose of emphasis, it is not an implosion that can be forestalled indefinitely by printing more money and manipulating interest rates. A devastating day of reckoning is at most only several years ahead of us, and it will almost certainly reduce the U.S. economy to a financial wasteland.

Some naïve Americans, loyal to the old free market system and the Old America of their childhoods, actually pray for such a calamity, in hopes that it might derail the One World socialist state envisioned for us. They correctly believe that such a system will be even more terrible than any economic collapse, and some even believe an economic collapse may provide the opportunity for salvation to emerge.

This is pure folly: It is more likely the approaching collapse will empower those who promote a socialist “New America.” Just as the Great Depression consolidated Franklin Roosevelt's march into centralized planning, such a catastrophe would be used by socialism's proponents as “proof” that Capitalism is no longer able to function. As Obama's Chief of Staff Rahm Emanuel stated in 2008, “Never let a disaster go to waste.”

In comparison to our own approaching economic calamity, the Depression of the 1930s may measure up as a picnic. Moreover, accompanying the misery and wreckage will be a redistribution of wealth unparalleled in human history.

This post-apocalyptic landscape may seem far-fetched, until we reflect on the unlimited corruption and immorality of the people who currently lead us. Some have absolutely no sincere interest in the welfare of their fellow citizens, as their behavior repeatedly illustrates. In 2013, with over 90 million Americans unemployed, many U.S. politicians of both parties worked enthusiastically to formulate legislation to create amnesty for 11 million illegal immigrants, and for legal immigration to double from one million to two million annually.

By some estimates, this new legislation would have permitted 33 million Third World immigrants to enter the U.S. in the first decade following the enactment of this legislation. The goal of its supporters was not to create jobs for chronically unemployed Americans, but instead, to import an endless stream of cheap labor to please the Republican Party's corporate donors, while importing a cheap supply of voters for the Democrat Party's socialist agenda.

This legislation would have devastated employment prospects for tens of millions of Americans – and in particular, for the black community – yet, there was only silence from most of the politicians who routinely claim to champion the underclass. It demolished any pretense that our politicians represent the interests of the American people.

(Step 2: Destroy Its Government, Institutions and Founding Principles - In The Next Issue!)

THE NEW MARXIST PARTY HATES REAL AMERICANS

By Earl P. Holt III

We are indebted to Wiki Leaks for its recent revelation -- found in "hacked" e-mails from Hillary's Campaign Manager, John Podesta -- that Hillary has developed an increasing contempt for "everyday Americans." This should come as no surprise to any intelligent person.

Hillary's contempt for normal Americans is simply a mirroring of the prevailing attitude most members of the New Marxist Party (sometimes mistakenly referred to as "Democrats,") have toward all decent Americans.

The New Marxist Party hates Christians, white people, Republicans, heterosexuals, patriots, conservatives, small business owners, the law-abiding, Constitutionalists, home-schoolers, Second Amendment supporters, Libertarians, the self-employed, the self-reliant and those who despise Marxism in all its treasonous forms.

Such inferior and unenlightened types as ourselves are often referred to as residents of "fly-over country," and dismissed accordingly as toothless dwellers of trailer parks. This characterization has been formulated and perpetuated by the New Marxist Party's cheerleaders and PR firms, often mistakenly referred to in this country as "the news media."

Meanwhile, the New Marxist Party is quite enamored with its own intriguing mix of constituencies: These include black cop-killers, atheists, every variety of homo, Muslims of any kind, welfare recipients, Illegal Aliens, organized crime figures like the Clintons, the dregs of the Third World, Jewish Bolsheviks, Marxists of any stripe, union thugs, abortionists, black criminals in general, and pretty much any loser who despises the U.S. Constitution, free enterprise, Rule of Law and the Ten Commandments.

However, the REAL basis for the New Marxist Party's hatred of us is that we and our guns are just about the only deterrents still standing in the way of their grand scheme to impose a one-world socialist state upon us, run by "enlightened" and "superior" folks such as themselves.

They genuinely believe that the rest of us are too simple and ignorant to appreciate and understand the genius of those grand "Utopian" schemes they have envisioned for us.

In truth, however, we know only too well what they have in store for us: Any history of the 20th Century reveals a long record of bodies and disasters that mark this "Road to Serfdom," as Nobel Laureate Frederich Hayek christened it in his book of that title.

Our would-be masters have piled disaster upon catastrophe for almost 50 years: Yet most are too ignorant, stupid and dishonest to acknowledge that the path they envision for us is the same one responsible for the murder of 100 million innocent souls in the 20th Century, alone. It is the path that leads to Mao, Stalin, Castro, Hitler, Pol Pot, Kim Il Sung, Idi Amin, Robert Mugabe, and Bokassa.

Another lesson to be learned from a history of the 20th Century is this: The New Marxist Party is perfectly capable of screwing-up the Rock of Gibraltar and then, afterwards, granting itself endless awards and recognition for its kind and humanitarian intentions.

For example, abortion is about as close to a religious sacrament as most members of the New Marxist Party will ever observe. Thanks to the efforts of the New Marxist Party, even a baby brought to full term can be murdered with a pair of scissors, and its body parts sold to ghoulis "researchers."

Paralleling their enthusiasm for abortion is the New Marxist Party's equally fervent opposition to capital punishment. Clearly, their compassion is reserved exclusively for savage murderers, but is NEVER extended to the innocent Unborn. In their minds, it's America's murderers who need rescuing.

Similarly, there are now about 96 million unemployed Americans, with the vast majority no longer even looking for work. Yet, the Holy Grail of the New Marxist Party is amnesty for the 40 million illegal foreign nationals already here: In addition, they want open borders to enable the dregs of the Third World to immigrate here and further swell the ranks of the impoverished and unemployed.

Another example of the damage inflicted on this country by the New Marxist Party is their near-total destruction of the black nuclear family. Black illegitimacy is currently around 80% nationwide, and over 90% in the large, urban areas. Prior to the emergence of the welfare state in the mid-1960s, black illegitimacy was around 20%.

The New Marxist Party has thrown $23 Trillion at "Urban Welfare Spending" to bribe the black underclass into supporting them electorally. This has made black male head-of-households largely superfluous: They were driven from the home and into a form of exile where crime, alcohol, drugs and other vices were far more seductive than gainful employment.

This has turned our large urban areas — once considered the "gems" of our civilization -- into violent, savage wastelands of drugs, alcoholism, violence, crime, prostitution, unemployment, vandalism and hopelessness. There was no way out of this cycle of despair except education: But then, the New Marxist Party subverted that, as well.

Using the demonstrably lower levels of black academic achievement as evidence of "de facto" race discrimination, the New Marxist Party embarked on a crusade to "bridge" this racial achievement "gap" in the public schools.

While studiously ignoring the irrefutable evidence of lower average black I.Q.s as the true cause of such disparities, they offered a variety of "panaceas" which were costly beyond the wildest dreams of the Bourbons who built Versailles, all of which have combined to effectively destroy inner-city public education.

These include dumbed-down curricula, Federal Court-Ordered "Desegregation," the charade known as "Common Core," the "No Child Left Behind" law, a "White Privilege" curriculum, a "multicultural" curriculum, "affirmative-action" for teachers and administrators, "math with no wrong answers," and a variety of other fraudulent and destructive policies, each of which has widened this racial achievement gap.

Meanwhile, in the area of national security, they never found a communist spy they couldn't defend, even long after his guilt was proved conclusively: Moreover, they always sided with our mortal enemies whenever an American politician actually showed some courage and actively resisted expansion by the Soviets or their proxies.

Likewise, the New Marxist Party transferred Trillions of dollars in agricultural loans and subsidies to the Soviets, allowing this mortal enemy to divert resources away from its stagnant agricultural sector, and help build the largest and most aggressively expansionist military in modern history.

These are just a few examples of the treasonous, traitorous, incompetent, and destructive nature of the New Marxist Party, and how it has gone about diminishing and subverting this once great nation in pursuit of its dream of one-world socialist rule.

There should be little confusion among "everyday Americans" as to why we will and must continue to resist the treasonous schemes and conspiracies of the Marxist and criminal enterprise known as the "New Marxist Party". (END)

ATTACKING "THE THIN BLUE LINE"

By Thomas Conway

"Blatantly irrational behavior is rapidly being established as the norm in almost every area of human endeavor...Americans know something without a name is undermining the nation, turning the mind mushy when it comes to separating truth from falsehood and right from wrong." -- Martin Gross

Yes, indeed, but how many among us fully comprehend that our enemies' intent is to destroy us? When the forces of evil set out to collapse a civilization, they begin by assaulting its institutions and icons and traditions -- the ones that make it strong -- yet most of our fellow lemmings are oblivious to today's unending assaults on all of these things in America.

Instead, most believe the bilge that the devastation we are witnessing is merely inevitable social change, and they believe this because it is what they have repeatedly been told to believe. It is only as the attacks have ramped up in recent years that small numbers of courageous individuals have dared to voice their opposition.

And note that the latter are quickly labeled "reactionaries," only because those bent on destroying us have become so emboldened they now broaden their assaults to include virtually every traditional form of human identity itself, including gender identity, religious identity, cultural identity and racial identity.

The logic of our enemies is simple: Before they build the "Utopian" society they promise, they must first "deconstruct" existing societies. The above-described assaults will, in time, make any civilization unstable: Here, they make America more tumultuous and chaotic, and thus more susceptible to the toppling that is planned for her. As communist scourge-turned-media-darling Nelson Mandela was quick to explain: "You win by making your society ungovernable."

The last line of defense between social order and chaos is, of course, the "thin blue line" of the police. They, too, are now under unrelenting attack, as the Left revs up its propaganda war against law enforcement. Marxist Revolutionaries, such as "Black Lives Matter," allege that our cops have become the problem instead of the cure, because policemen are allegedly engaged in a campaign of violence against black Americans.

In this regard, it is ironic that law enforcement personnel are portrayed as the threat to peace and social order in our society, and the actual perpetrators of violent criminal acts are portrayed as heroic. The Left and their PR firms in the news media have engaged in an unrelenting campaign to reject police as the solution to the disorder and violence of a nation that is visibly descending into anarchy.

In reality, even a cursory review of crime statistics reveals that most violent crime in America is committed by blacks, and if the police were truly guilty of targeting them, the result would be, literally, piles of black casualties.

The reality is also that for every person of color shot by law enforcement, hundreds more are shot by members of their own racial or ethnic groups. This concern over police violence is thus grossly misdirected, or, as one elderly black-on-black crime victim opined in a news broadcast, "Black lives matter, only not to black people so much."

The FBI Uniform Crime Reports for 2014 contradict all the news media disinformation, and reveal that non-blacks are more likely to be shot by police than are blacks. The 2014 UCRs reveal that almost 15 of every 100,000 non-blacks were shot during their arrest, whereas only 13 of every 100,000 blacks were shot during arrest. This occurs despite unrelenting waves of violence routinely committed by blacks.

Moreover, U.S. Department of Justice statistics reveal that from 1980 to 2008, blacks perpetrated a significant majority of U.S. homicides, even though they accounted for only 11 to 12 percent of the total U.S. population. The black offending rate for the crime of homicide is eight times higher than that for whites.

Recent statistics show few fluctuations in these rates: In 2013 blacks alone were still 52 percent of all arrests for murder. Similarly, juvenile violent crime arrests and robbery arrests were overwhelmingly black, and crime surveys regarding robberies found blacks had arrest rates for robbery eight to nine times higher than those for whites.

Such statistics suggest that the police actually use greater restraint in apprehending citizens of color, and explode the fraudulent narrative that blacks are more likely to experience police violence. As far as having a valid grievance against the police, it would be far more rational for non-blacks to be doing the complaining. None of these facts are visible in the smog and din generated by the Left's media apparatchiks.

Note also that until very recently, the FBI intentionally muddled crime reporting by lumping Hispanic Offenders together with White Offenders in its UCRs, despite the significantly higher rates of crime evidenced in the Hispanic subgroup. This was done purposefully to obscure the dramatic differences in violent crime rates between blacks and whites, and to make whites appear more violent than they actually are.

The fantasy of police officers acting in a spirit of racial animosity goes hand-in-hand with fantastical discussions about so-called "white privilege." The police supposedly have ingrained biases making them predisposed to manhandle nonwhites, and less inclined to use violence against white citizens they encounter.

Poppycock: Cops will use force against whites or blacks with equal amounts of indifference or enthusiasm. The best predictor of the use of violent force by police is the extent to which a suspect resists efforts to detain him. If every attempt at arrest or "stop and frisk" becomes a foot chase or high speed car chase, a suspect can expect a certain amount of "street justice," irrespective of race.

Both of the discourses involving police brutality and white privilege are quite naturally promoted by the Left's sock puppet, the news media, which magnifies the relatively rare instances involving deadly force being perpetrated by the police against nonwhites, while demonstrating a studied indifference to violent force used against whites.

Media outrage is rarely directed at citizens of color -- enraged by the hype -- who drive their vehicles into groups of policemen, or kill unsuspecting officers in ambush. Yet, the murder of police officers is an inevitable result of today's campaign against law enforcement: In the minds of the childlike Left, the police are "delegitimized" by the media, and violence against them is thus warranted.

One inevitable consequence is that the police respond by becoming less effective and proactive in their law enforcement activities. Increased crime and resulting social destabilization are the result, exactly as intended.

We are witnessing our civilization being purposefully destabilized in the name of "social justice," but this is merely a smoke screen: Our enemies are, in effect, exploiting the virtues of our institutions in order to bring them down on our heads.

Our institutions are not perfect, but we are vastly better off fighting efforts calculated to burn them down rather than to reform them. And once our adversaries have come to power -- insidious purveyors of misinformation and deceit that they are -- have no doubt that vastly greater deceptions and imperfections will prevail.

Our adversaries' willingness to destroy the truth and promote lies lends credence to the belief that their new society will be ruled with their own iron fist, with justice and tolerance being the very last things on their minds. (END)

SOUTHERN POVERTY LAW CENTER RUNNING SCARED IN WAKE OF TRUMP VICTORY

By Dr. Michael Hill

The Montgomery (Ala.)-based Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC) appears to be running scared in the wake of Donald Trump's stunning Presidential victory on November 8th. Richard Cohen, SPLC President, noted in a statement on the group's blog on 9 November:

"If he means what he says, Mr. Trump must make absolutely clear to them [i.e. white nationalists and the alt-right] that neither their ideas nor anyone affiliated with them will have any influence or voice in his administration . . . That is the first thing he must do to begin binding the wounds of division that his campaign has caused."

Sounds like a very nervous plea to me.

Wow! Imagine the reverse: Clinton wins and a pro-white, pro-Christian, traditionalist group calls upon her to disavow the ideas of the radical leftists and communists and socialists and progressives she represents, and rule for the benefit of all, especially white Christians, the most hated of all the hated.

The leftist camp would have laughed in our faces . . . or spat in them (or worse). They also would have continued apace with their dispossession of white America (including our own Southland,) and their support for nation-destroying globalism.

If Trump is smart, he will listen to nationalists in various camps throughout America and then act on their ideas.

They are the ideas of the future in the US, Europe, and the entire white world: True nations, based on the organic reality of race and ethnicity, kith and kin, blood and soil. They are the ideas that will permit greatness to re-emerge because of the unleashed genius and capability of the white race.

The SPLC knows that it and its leftist cohorts are on the other end of the totem pole, as it were. And after eight years with their people and ideology regnant (and the eight prior to that under Hillary-supporter G. W. Bush), they are the out-in-the-cold opposition now.

They demand and plead to be treated with respect while they re-tool and re-marshal their forces for the next grab for power. Or perhaps they don't want to wait for an election: Their street thugs are already on the march in many US cities.

My advice to President-Elect Trump is simple: Don't negotiate with serpents because you'll get bitten. Listen to the truth, sir: If given a chance, your enemies will destroy you and everything you purport to represent. Treat them like the danger and enemy they are. Serve those who put you where you are. (END)

FEAR & LOATHING IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

By Sam Dickson

The National Policy Institute (NPI) sponsored a Conference in Washington, D.C. on Friday and Saturday, the 18th and 19th of November. The subject matter of the Conference was "The Alt Right and Trump."

300 people attended the Conference, but registration took place "on-line," and those wishing to attend were not screened or "approved." Numerous well-credentialed speakers presented well-prepared and thoughtful remarks to a well-behaved and orderly audience.

The restrained and orderly behavior of the attendees stood in stark contrast to repeated criminal attacks upon NPI supporters both nights from so-called "civil rights protesters," as they have been called by the Corrupt Leftist Media. They call themselves the "Anti-Fa" (or "anti-fascists,") a term used by extreme Marxists against their enemies.

The "protests" went far beyond peaceful demonstrations. The Anti-Fa were able to bully two restaurants in succession into cancelling the NPI's reservations for its Friday dinner.

When the NPI was able to secure yet a third venue, the "protesters" were able to track attendees and proceeded to disrupt the dinner by crowding around the entrance, where they harassed diners and those seeking to enter or leave.

These hooligans became more and more emboldened as the evening progressed. Many invaded the restaurant wearing masks to hide their identities. They charged up the stairway and attempted to reach the top floor where the NPI dinner was in progress.

Fortunately, the Anti-Fa were blocked on the stairway by NPI President Richard Spencer and others, and were unable to invade the dining room or to commit whatever crimes they intended, had they been able to reach their objective.

We have some idea of their intentions because the "civil rights protesters" carried spray bottles of urine, with which they sprayed Richard Spencer and others among those successfully blocking their access to the dining room.

Invasion of a restaurant under these circumstances constitutes Criminal Trespass, and it is a crime. Spraying people with urine is also a crime: It's called an "Assault."

The Washington police made no arrests. They also refused to remove the masks of these criminals, when requested by the NPI attendees.

The bullying of two successive restaurant venues, the criminal trespass into the restaurant, the violent assault against the President of NPI and the wearing of masks to hide their identities were of no concern to the Washington, D.C. police or to the Corrupt Leftist Media.

Apparently, "civil rights protesters" have a "right" to disrupt peaceful meetings, invade public accommodations en masse and spray people with urine. And, at least according to the District police, they have a "right" to wear masks when they are engaged in such activities.

The next day the conduct of the Anti-Fa grew even nastier, which is predictable when violent criminals are permitted to engage in criminal acts with impunity. This violent and criminal element recognized a conference attendee and his girl friend: Without any provocation whatsoever, five or six criminals then brutally attacked him.

They knocked him to the ground and proceeded to savagely kick and pummel him while chanting "Die, die, die." Had one of the kicks struck the victim in his neck, these "civil rights protesters" could easily have achieved their stated threat of killing their victim. Fortunately, the victim's injuries were "limited" to bruises and a bloodied head.

The victim's girlfriend was not beaten, but she was sprayed with Raid insecticide. This also is an assault: It has the potential to do severe damage to the eye and permanently impair one's vision.

This time the police were reluctantly driven to arrest at least some of the perpetrators. However, no effort was made by the police to make the cowards in this “peaceful demonstration” remove their masks and reveal their identities.

In the minds of the D.C. police (and I use the term “minds” with reservation,) these criminals have a “right” to obscure their identities when committing violent felonies. For the D.C. police to require these criminals to reveal their identities was deemed a violation of their “right” to wear masks when committing assaults or when engaged in criminal trespass.

This outrage causes one to ponder whether the Ku Klux Klan possesses an equivalent “right” to go about the District of Columbia masked and engaged in violent assaults against those attending political meetings sponsored by the NAACP or other leftists: Does anyone think the KKK would receive such “kid-glove” treatment from the District’s police force?

NPI hopes that the potentially fatal or blinding criminal assaults upon its attendees will actually be prosecuted and punished with appropriate severity. However, the history of the District on this matter is not encouraging.

Last year, another of the Anti-Fa assaulted one of the participants in an earlier NPI conference. She was arrested, but the charges were summarily dropped without her victims ever being contacted by police or prosecutors. (Under black leadership, Washington increasingly resembles Zimbabwe.)

No NPI officer, speaker or Conference participant was ever provoked into retaliating in kind to the violence and criminality of the Anti-Fa. Needless to say, this restraint, garnered no credit, whatsoever, with the Corrupt Leftist Media.

Likewise, deliberate and violent assaults appear to be unworthy of notice by prosecuting authorities, so long as they are committed by ideological allies. (More evidence of a Third World government in D.C.)

None of the crimes committed against NPI and its participants aroused any significant moral indignation in the mass media. Most of the news media did not report these crimes at all, despite dramatic footage of these violent criminals kicking and beating their victim until he required medical attention.

Reporting criminal violence against “politically incorrect” victims does not fit their narrative, so it must be “spiked.” A news media dedicated to “filtering” and “managing” the news knows better than to report such crimes against their political enemies. The media is exclusively interested in reporting “all the news that fits their narratives.”

Demonstrating just how biased and dishonest they truly are, the Corrupt Leftist Media actually DID express outrage and indignation over some events surrounding the NPI Conference: It’s just that the indignation was directed exclusively at the NPI and its participants.

There was a tsunami of media outrage over the actions of a tiny number of attendees to the Conference during the last 45 minutes of a two-day conference.

Richard Spencer, the NPI’s President, gave the concluding remarks. In them, he parodied and satirized the news media’s caricature of the Alt Right by saying “celebrate like it is 1933” which he then countered by saying “celebrate like it is 2016.”

He concluded his remarks by hailing the Trump victory and saying “Hail Trump,” lyrics found in the official song “Hail to the Chief,” played and sung when the President enters a function.

The media, however, being gripped by its desire to damage Trump and his supporters at every opportunity, twisted Spencer’s remarks into a tortured interpretation as “Heil Hitler.”

At the conclusion of Spencer’s speech the audience gave a standing ovation. As the media were filming, about four individuals -- whose identities are unknown to NPI -- gave “NAZI-salutes.” One is seen rushing to the front and repeatedly saluting so as to insure that he is prominently noticed. The remaining 296 people simply clapped and exited in an orderly fashion. End of story? No.

The Corrupt Leftist Media erupted into wild claims of a Nazi rally in the Ronald Reagan Building. Among many other habitual liars, Rachel Madcow informed her audience that “the room” erupted into Nazi salutes. Four out of 300 became “the room.”

The Corrupt Leftist Media has a glaring double standard in these matters, as evidenced by their tender treatment of the “Occupy Movement.” Many in the Occupy Movement wore shirts or carried flags bearing the hammer and sickle of international communism or displayed the face of the Castroite communist and terrorist Che Guevara.

Participants in the Occupy Movement who engaged in this conduct publicly demonstrated their support for an ideology that murdered 100 million innocent souls in the 20th Century, alone. There was never any media outrage about Communist participation in the Occupy Movement.

Likewise, the Communist Party formally endorsed Hillary Clinton for President. The reaction? Did the media demand that Hillary reject Communist support? Did it express alarm that Communists desired her election? No, because they are all on the same team.

NPI does not impose strict conditions upon its attendees except that they are not to engage in violent or criminal behavior. If a National Socialist wishes to attend a function, he may. Likewise, Jews and African Americans may attend and some did attend the Conference without incident.

NPI is not responsible for its attendees' political beliefs, and it is justified in pondering whether the identity and motives of the "NAZI-saluters" in the audience were legitimate attendees.

For example, the most prominent NAZI-salutes were photographed at the restaurant on Friday night. They depict an Oriental female who participated (without incident) in the Conference standing with two Jewish males. The two males gave the NAZI-salute as the picture was snapped.

NPI believes in Rule of Law and our beliefs on racial issues are not extreme. In fact, they are the same views once held by George Washington, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln.

NPI's expression of its beliefs are protected by the First Amendment, or in theory, are supposed to be protected by the First Amendment. The denial of police protection to those repeatedly attacked by fanatics wedded to anti-American views is a violation of our right to peaceably assemble and seek redress for the wrongs being perpetrated against White European America.

Likewise, the rankly hypocritical and dishonest behavior of the Corrupt Leftist Media is evidence they condone such behavior, and approve of violent and criminal acts used to suppress the First Amendment Rights of enemies.

This Hitler issue is a classic tempest in a teapot and a contrived issue. It is a non-issue, regardless of the efforts of the Rachel Madcows of the world, who are too dishonest and too stupid to recognize that it is THEIR end of the political spectrum which engages in "Brown-Shirt Tactics," not our own.

NPI is annoyed by the way this "issue" has been handled, but it is hardly surprised: Media bias is simply a fact of life in America, just as it was with TASS and PRAVDA in the former Soviet Union, and for the very same reasons.

The NPI knows as well as anyone that to seek fairness and objectivity, one searches in vain within America's print or electronic news media. The good news is that America is waking up to this reality. (END)

Donald Trump: “Drain the Swamp”

These are transcripts of remarks made by Donald Trump on the campaign trail,
October 29th, 2016 in Golden, Colorado:

“Real change also means getting rid of the corruption in Washington.

As you have heard, it was just announced yesterday that the FBI is reopening their investigation into the criminal and illegal conduct of Hillary Clinton.

This is the biggest political scandal since Watergate, and it is everybody’s deepest hope that justice, at last, can be delivered. Hillary has nobody but herself to blame for her mounting legal troubles. Her criminal action was willful, deliberate, intentional and purposeful.

Hillary set-up an illegal server for the obvious purpose of shielding her criminal conduct from public disclosure. She set-up this illegal server knowing full well that her actions put our national security at risk, and put the safety and security of your children at risk.

To further cover-up her crimes, she “bleached” and deleted 33,000 emails after a Congressional Subpoena, made 13 phones disappear – some with a hammer, lied to Congress under oath, lied to the FBI, and then two boxes of email evidence went mysteriously missing.

She even pretended not to know that the letter “C” meant confidential information that was classified.

As the recent release of a memo from one of Bill Clinton’s closest associates demonstrates, the Clintons have turned the government into a scheme for personal profit. The Clintons even saw the deadly disaster in Haiti as an opportunity to cash-in.

The WikiLeaks revelations have revealed a degree of corruption at the highest levels of our government like nothing we’ve ever seen before – including a candidate who boasts to donors about having a public position for the voters, and a private position for Wall Street.

Hillary put the office of Secretary of State up for sale and, if she ever got the chance, she’d put the Oval Office up for sale too.

Hillary should have been convicted long ago. That the legal process has been taking this long is incredible. And now it’s reported that the Department of Justice is fighting the FBI – that’s because the Department of Justice is trying to protect her. 97% of Department of Justice employees’ presidential contributions went to Hillary Clinton.

There are those, and I happen to be one of them, who think Hillary offered Loretta Lynch a reappointment as Attorney General. Perhaps that was what Bill Clinton was doing in the secret meeting on the tarmac in Arizona. He said it was to play golf, but he never played, and it was over 100 degrees.

This is what we mean when we call it a rigged system.

Now the Attorney General is fighting the FBI for doing what was right – but what should have been done many months ago. Perhaps, through this other investigation, they found what may be some of the 33,000 missing and deleted emails Hillary tried desperately to destroy, even going so far as to use digital bleach.

The stakes on November 8th could not be higher.

A vote for Hillary is vote a to surrender our government to public corruption, graft and cronyism that threatens the very foundations of our Constitutional system.

What makes us exceptional is that we are a nation of laws, and that we are all equal under those laws – Hillary’s corruption shreds that foundational principle. Public Corruption is a grave and profound threat to a Democracy.

Government corruption spreads outward, like a cancer, and infects the operations of government itself. If the corruption is not removed, then the people are not able to have faith in their government. It deadens and saps the spirit of civic participation.

Corruption decays our trust in institutions and our legal system. When the outcome is fixed, when the system is rigged, people lose hope. They detach. Our society becomes unplugged and unhinged. When the powerful can get away with anything, because they have the money and the connections to rig the system, then the laws lose their moral authority.

Hillary believes money and power – not truth and justice – should rule the day.

As FDR once said, government by organized money is just as dangerous as government by organized mob. This is what we often see in Third World countries – where the governments are often run by a small handful of corrupt people for their personal enrichment.

Corruption is corrosive to every institution of government, and it must be stopped.

Restoring honesty to our government, and the rule of law to our society, will be my highest priority as President. We must save America. That is why My Contract With The American Voter begins with a plan to end government corruption and take our country back from the special interests.

I want the entire corrupt Washington establishment to hear and to heed the words I am about to say: When we win on November 8th, We Are Going To Washington, D.C. And We Are Going To DRAIN THE SWAMP!”(END)

A WARNING FROM A SOUTHERN NATIONALIST

By Dr. Michael Hill

It is commonplace for the victor in a hotly contested political race to offer an olive branch to the loser in the form of a pledge to work together and govern in the interests of everyone.

This might work in a homogeneous society, in which most of the fundamental things are agreed upon by both the winning and losing sides. However, in modern multi-cultural, multi-racial America it will not work: The interests of the two sides are diametrically opposed and it amounts to the old zero-sum game known as “we win, you lose.”

In the immediate aftermath of his victory, Donald Trump offered that olive branch to the left. Let’s hope he’s not serious.

So here is my warning to the victors: Do not go back to sleep and think all is well. If you don’t finish the job by routing your enemies and driving them into the sea while you have the chance, they will re-group and be back at your throats in no time! (Remember First Manassas!)

You have been given a reprieve by God and probably undeservedly so: Do not give your enemies and His a reprieve.

Their goal is to dispossess you of everything. If you have not heard that over the past year, then you have not been listening. Just what the hell do you think multiculturalism, diversity, and tolerance are all about? Your enemies care nothing about those things. They are merely used as weapons against you for your dispossession and ultimate destruction. The sum of their effect is White Guilt.

I listened to CNN for a while last night, early on during the election returns. One thing struck me above all else: The glee in their voices and countenances when they spoke of various areas that had been taken over by progressives of various stripes. The CNN on-air people were delighted to report that the old stock inhabitants who once controlled the area were being outvoted by recent immigrants and transplants who supported Hillary Clinton.

These media elites (and others of their elite ilk) look forward to the demise of old white America and the rise of a new paradigm in which they will hold sway. You will be dispossessed, sequestered in the equivalent of ghettos, and will be a despised and hated minority in the country your ancestors built.

You, by God’s grace, may have been given a short reprieve from this scenario. Redeem the time! As for me, I recommend that we get busy with Southern independence. We need our own country, and it must be run by us for our own interests. It must once again be White Man’s Land. (END)

LEGAL IMMIGRATION ISN'T MUCH BETTER

By James Schneider

When speaking about illegal immigration, people often say "I don't care who enters, as long as it is legal." This sounds good, but how many people genuinely feel that way? I often have the opportunity to observe how people interact with immigrants – sometimes even Democrats – and they are not comfortable with them.

A few years ago, I went with my Ukrainian wife to the Immigration and Naturalization Services in Baltimore to help her become a U.S. citizen. In a room of about 200 immigrants, all were prospective citizens. They were from all over, including a few from Europe. Their neighbors probably feel as uncomfortable around these new immigrants as they, themselves feel.

They all took the oath, promising to defend the United States from all enemies, foreign and domestic. I wondered how many would really risk their lives if we were attacked. How many would join the enemy and how many would just find another country willing to take them?

However one characterizes us, we have become a land of foreigners. If we continue to take in large numbers of refugees, we will become even more dramatically so. Now even the founding stock of America feels alienated in most large American cities. That is why many people of both political parties hate our "Political Class," which created this mess.

Donald Trump was elected because he had the courage to say what no other candidate said about the issue of immigration. In a few months he will be our President. We expect much from him and I am already prepared to be disappointed.

If he deports most of the illegal aliens it may cause a recession in the housing market, which will spread to other sectors. If he counters these recessionary forces by replacing deportations with 'legal' immigrants, it will eliminate the threat of a recession, but what will that accomplish?

I hope President-Elect Trump recognizes that it makes no sense to build a wall on our Mexican Border, only to turn around and then permit tens of millions of low-skilled Latino immigrants to enter the U.S. legally.

May I suggest spending a little more money guarding the walls and fences that are already on our border. If the Border Patrol is run by committed and serious people, it can do a pretty effective job of curtailing illegal immigration from Mexico.

Moreover, it is ludicrous to arrest and release these invaders, and then expect them to show up for their Deportation Hearings three months later. Release them back into Mexico and warn them not to come back, lest they serve a long prison sentence..

We do not want "extreme vetting" of immigrants from Muslim countries as Donald Trump has proposed. We do not want immigrants who make us feel uneasy, no matter what their nation of origin may be.

Legally, it may be easy to deport 10 to 20 million illegal aliens with no new legislation: Merely enforce existing laws. But those that are here 'legally' require more legal analysis to address their status. One could say that many of them are here because of misleading statements made when The Immigration and Nationality Act of 1965 was passed, also called "The Hart-Celler Act."

The law was passed against the wishes of a majority of Americans, without consideration for our well-being, and it was enacted as a result of fraudulent statements and hasty analysis.

Can we now reverse the effects of this law and deport over 50 million additional people? It would not be easy.

If we continue with no change in policy we are just delaying the economic collapse that will surely come as we flood the country with millions of people who do not have a clue how to maintain a First World Country. (END)

AS PEOPLE DIE, FBI FIGHTS "INTERNET TERRORISM"

By J.S. Mosby

Americans worried about terrorism can rest assured: The FBI is busily guarding American Citizens against the dangers of being killed by a flying e-mail.

The FBI has been ordered by the White House never to investigate or accurately identify real terrorism, so it is burdened with a mandate not to discriminate against Muslims, America's true foreign enemies. Hence, the FBI Agent in charge of the Chicago Field Office -- Michael Anderson -- recently told Bloomberg Radio News that he is focusing on "terrorism by internet."

Discussing the FBI's capacity for "social media exploitation," Anderson told Bloomberg News that "with terrorism, Facebook and Instagram are spaces we need to be in." Meanwhile, violent crime and real instances of terrorist attacks no longer appear to be an FBI priority or even a concern.

Anderson lamented the existence of internet "dark spots created by encryption," and admitted that his office can do little to intercept the communications used by Islamic States. So instead, Anderson is making a priority out of lawful gun owners, whom the Obama Administration alleges "have issues with mental illness."

FBI agents are busily contacting such people on Facebook, an easily accessible product where Anderson says "the FBI can bring a lot to the table." Once contacted, agents then try to lure and entrap such mentally ill people into committing violent crimes, much as they hounded Randy Weaver into illegally sawing-off a shotgun back in the 1990s before murdering several members of his family at Ruby Ridge, Idaho.

"Our goal is to get them out of the internet and put eyes on them," Anderson said.

This FBI tactic of appearing to do something by fabricating violent crimes -- while ignoring real crimes because they are deemed too hard to solve -- has been criticized by the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals as the "sterile path of fomenting crime and then arresting those participating" in such a phony conspiracy.

However, under political pressure from the Obama administration, the FBI shows no inclination to cease and desist. "The U.S. Attorney's Office is our primary customer," Anderson told Bloomberg News.

Not addressed in the interview is another FBI tactic which has become all too common, that of using internet "anonymization technology" to steal the identity of political activists -- alleged to be committing crimes with those identities -- and then arresting the activists.

This trend may have begun in a Fourth Circuit case authorizing the FBI to use PRIVATE computer hackers to evade the Fourth Amendment requirement for search warrants when investigating electronic communications: It has resulted in a number of white political activists receiving decades in prison for crimes committed by federal agents and their informants.

Anderson also used the ever-obliging news media to score points against Donald Trump. Anderson did exactly that by co-authoring an Op-Ed in the Chicago Sun-Times with Chicago US Attorney Zach Faradon, in which they attacked Trump's plan to restrict Muslim immigration.

Anderson's disloyalty to future U.S. President Trump is part of a disconcerting trend among American security officials. Egged on by Jewish neo-cons and their allies in the military, these Obama allies share our Islamic-Marxist President's hatred of White people, and his desire to suppress all white opposition to the Judæo-occult "New World Order."

Thus, as Islamic State operatives set off bombs and behead and machine-gun the innocent, Anderson and his agents are busy playing "Farmville" on Facebook, looking for mentally ill whites to lure into silly conspiracies in an effort to "prove" that Islam is not a threat.

So, while the FBI is doing nothing to stop bullets and bombs, it's working overtime to protect Americans from loose e-mails. And, Anderson says, it's also working to investigate local police departments, to make sure that they aren't protecting White Americans from black violent crime, or interfering with the Black Lives Matter movement of Jewish Bolshevik George Soros. BLACK RACISM

Black and Brown racism rarely gets mentioned. Why is it that only white-on-black or white-on-brown racism is reported by the news media, and all other varieties of racism are studiously ignored?

"Hate Crimes" committed against whites, even when they are clearly racially motivated, are rarely characterized as such, but are pervasive wherever these minority groups congregate in significant numbers.

One can't even offer constructive criticism to these individuals – such as encouragement to pull up their trousers – without being denounced as a racist, bigot, etc.

Barack Hussein Obama (BO) is a prime enabler of Black racism, by reflexively attributing Black incompetence and criminality to Whites, and he thus helps to widen the racial divide. Whites are truly under siege.

Obama, Hillary and other communists embrace the Black Live Matter (BLM) hate group. This group has received over $100 million from Leftist sources such as George Soros, the hater and instigator par excellence. These contributions guarantee that the racial pot will continue to boil far into the future, and may end in catastrophic violence.

The agenda of BLM goes far beyond racial issues and is actually a battering ram for an extreme left-wing agenda which also includes "reparations" for slavery.

HILLARY'S AMERICA

Dinesh D'Souza's film, "Hillary's America," paints the Democrats as the party of Satan, while the Republicans are depicted as saints and paragons of virtue. The Democrats were supposedly the party of slavery and racism, while the Republicans opposed slavery and were the party of civil rights.

This film contains a lot of b.s. because "There is NONE righteous ...for ALL have sinned, and come short of God's glory." (Romans 3:10-23.)

First, the Southern states felt that inasmuch as they joined the Union voluntarily, they should also have retained the right to secede. Abraham Lincoln's policy of forcing the South to remain in the Union against its will could be interpreted as an enslavement of the South.

The South engaged in extensive commercial trade with Europe, so a Congress dominated by Northern interests imposed heavy tariffs upon it. Lincoln saw the South as a major source of revenue to the Union, so for that reason, he opposed Southern Secession. This is similar to the "crony capitalism" we see practiced by the federal government today.

Second, under both major political parties, the federal government has grown by leaps and bounds since Lincoln's Presidency, usurping powers not given it by the U.S. Constitution. Not even Ronald Reagan, an icon of conservatism, was actually able to reduce the size and scope of the federal government during his presidency. The Gipper merely slowed the rate of growth of the federal government.

Today, the American people are all slaves to the federal government in Washington D.C., where our ruling elites believe they know much better than we do, how best to manage our own lives. Is this not also slavery? The larger government is, the fewer options or personal choices any citizen has. Any government big and strong enough to give us everything we want, is also big and strong enough to take everything away from us.

Abortion is about as close to a religious Sacrament as most Democrats will ever get. Yet, how many of them know that Planned Parenthood was founded by Margaret Sanger, an admirer of Adolf Hitler and his racist eugenics? At Planned Parenthood, NO LIVES MATTER !

Despite much lip service to the contrary, both major political parties have been strong enablers of abortion, even when we had a Republican President and a Republican-controlled Congress.

While Dinesh D'Souza's film reveals some scandalous truths about the Clintons, it still contains several distortions and half-truths about American political history.

RESERVATIONS re FEDERAL RESERVE NOTES

Reality is harsh--that is why people love delusions.

Article I, Section 10, of the U.S. Constitution states: "No State shall take anything but gold and silver coin as tender in payment of debts."

Unfortunately, this wisdom was circumvented by the Federal Reserve Act of 1913, after which, our currency became so-called "fiat" money. No longer backed by gold or silver, Federal Reserve Notes became our official currency only because Congress and President Wilson said so.

Many people who once enjoyed liberty have made the mistake of abdicating their authority to central bankers who control the value of fiat money. Fiat money inevitably leads to inflation, because its devaluation produces higher costs of living.

Observant people are aware of the message on the one dollar Federal Reserve Note: The Omega sign behind George Washington signified the end of monarchy, but today it signifies the end of the Republic.

We no longer have an intact Constitution: It has been replaced by the ten planks of Karl Marx' Communist Manifesto. We are enslaved to politicians who, themselves, are slaves to the power of central banks.

George Santayana once remarked that "Those who do not remember the past are condemned to repeat it." Sometimes those who know their history will repeat such follies, anyway.

To assume that there is wealth in the U.S. Treasury or Federal Reserve is a delusion: All that exist are bookkeeping entries in computers that represent fiat currency transactions.

Federal Reserve Notes signify our debt, not our assets.

NOTABLE QUOTES FROM THOMAS JEFFERSON'S "Notes on the State of Virginia"

The disappointing level of progress by the so-called "Civil Rights Movement" in advancing the education and civility of Blacks into White society could have been correctly predicted if the observations and admonitions of Thomas Jefferson had been taken to heart. Below is an applicable quotation from Jefferson's treatise, considered by many to be the most important work of the 18th Century:

"The improvement of Blacks in body and mind, in the first instance of their mixture (Editor's Note: "miscegenation") with the Whites has been observed by everyone and proves that their inferiority is not the effect merely of their condition of life."

"Their amalgamation with any other color produces a degradation to which no lover of his country and no lover of excellence in the human character can innocently consent."

RIOTING FOR FUN AND PROFIT

As a firm Donald Trump supporter, I acknowledge that people who engage in peaceful anti-Trump gatherings have every Constitutional right to peacefully assemble and make their views known to the public.

In contrast, those who engage in rioting, vandalism and violence -- and have the nerve to call themselves "protesters" -- are really just criminals, losers and hooligans. They should be arrested and juggled.

These rioters are delusional to think they will accomplish anything worthwhile with their malicious marauding and mayhem. Their temper tantrums and rioting demonstrate their immaturity and low level of intellect.

Evil is always looking for an excuse, as the saying goes. Many Blacks claim to be the equals of Whites as citizens, yet they thoroughly disprove such claims with their violence and criminality.

They try to legitimize their actions using the rhetoric of the "Black Lives Matter" movement. The Black Lives Matter organization is, in reality, a terrorist movement funded with $100 million from extreme leftist organizations, George Soros, and formerly charitable organizations whose purposes have been thoroughly subverted.

A TRAIL OF BODIES

Hillary is a career criminal. She and her hubby -- the serial rapist -- have been suspected or implicated in the deaths of about 60 people since their days in Arkansas politics. They were also "up to here" in drug trafficking.

The Clintons continue to leave a trail of bodies wherever they go. Just before Independence Day, Shawn Lucas was thrilled about the prospect of serving papers on Debbie Wasserman Shultz, the DNC Chairperson. He was found dead on his bathroom floor in early September.

Democratic staffer Seth Conrad Rich was murdered on July 8th. He was en-route to the FBI that morning, reportedly, to meet with agents about an on-going court case involving the Clinton family.

On June 22nd, 2016, former UN official John Ashe "accidentally" crushed his own throat and died a week before he was scheduled to testify against the Clintons and the Democratic Party.

There may be no conclusive evidence linking the Clintons with these deaths, but a persistent and life-long pattern has followed them from Little Rock to Washington: Those who pose a threat to the Clintons have a tendency to "wake up dead."

We are inundated daily with new recitations of Hillary's negatives, but the career criminal aspects of her behavior are usually overlooked, even by the so-called "conservative" media.

MY AGENDA FOR DONALD J. TRUMP

These are my recommendations to President-Elect Trump:

Get the U.S. out of the U.N. The goals and agenda of the United Nations are anathema to American interests.

Reverse the movement to federalize local police. Don't employ the National Guard where the state and local law enforcement can do the job. Encourage the support of local police forces.

Stop uncontrolled immigration. It costs us jobs, harms our economy, endangers our national security, and threatens our culture and very identity.

Oppose or renegotiate harmful trade pacts such as the Trans-Pacific Partnership and NAFTA. These pacts ship our jobs overseas, destroy our national finances, and subordinate our national interests to an internationalist and socialist agenda.

Oppose efforts to weaken our 2nd Amendment Guarantees, oppose any registration of gun owners, and do anything legally to prevent the confiscation of firearms in the hands of The People.

Enhance and encourage our energy independence by fostering exploitation of resources such as coal, oil, and natural gas -- which we have in abundance -- while adopting measures to reduce pollution from extracting and processing these resources.

A BLIGHT TO THE SENSES

A major blight to our senses in this modern era is the sight of a "mixed" couple or family "unit" composed of different races waddling down the aisle of a supermarket. Especially unappealing is the sight of a White mother with several mixed-race offspring in tow, and NEVER an adult male present.

Another blight is the "cell-phone voice." There is something about holding a phone in one's hand that compels people to bellow out the most intimate or mundane details of their lives for all to hear.

BEGGING YOUR PARDON

After President Trump is well settled into office, the Trump Justice Department may want to scrutinize the cases of right-wing prisoners prosecuted by the Obama "Justice" Department.

They would do well to examine cases of White Nationalists, militia members, sovereignty enthusiasts, whistleblowers, etc., to ascertain whether they are political prisoners or true violators of the criminal law. This assessment should be as broad-based as possible.

This is a project we should start thinking about now, just as we should also start thinking of ways to interact with a government that may, for once, listen to our concerns.

RETAIN THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE!

Some of our fellow Americans, deeply disappointed with the outcome of the recent national elections, are now saying we should abolish the Electoral College. We should not do this.

America's founding fathers originally intended that the nation be based on the premise that every individual citizen enjoy certain God-given and therefore inalienable rights. Abolition of the Electoral College would contribute toward the destruction of this concept. For this very reason, the U.S. Constitution mandates that every state have two United States Senators.

The abolition of the Electoral College means that America's Presidents would be chosen by America's approximately ten-most-populous states, to the exclusion of the majority of them. Here in Maryland, we have a similar problem: State politics are hogged by the state's five most populous counties, to the exclusion of all the others. It does not feel good, to know that one's vote for such a crucial office as United States President counts for nothing.

America originally was never intended to be a democracy. Pure and absolute democracy was farthest from the minds of America's founding fathers. Rather, they intended a Constitutional Republic wherein every citizen shall enjoy certain enumerated rights. Let's keep it that way now!

Democracy is four wolves and a sheep, deciding what will be for lunch today. In a Constitutional republic, the sheep has firearms, to dissuade the wolves from any evil intentions they might have on his life.

THE "OBAMA DOCTRINE": One Legacy of America's First Marxist President

By Earl P. Holt III

I've got a theory I want to share with you. It's just a theory, but unlike the "Theory of Evolution" or the "Theory of Man-Made Global-Warming," it is evidence-driven and subject to revision if disproved by facts or evidence to the contrary.

When the Berlin Wall fell in November of 1989, America's mortal enemies lost their greatest ally: Marxists of all stripes had always expected the Soviet Union and Eastern Bloc countries would provide the "muscle" and revolutionary discipline to conquer and subjugate America.

The American Left had always expected the Soviet Bloc to play this crucial role in helping to impose their "Utopian Dream" of Marxism upon a vanquished America and West: After 1990, and much to the dismay of its Marxist allies in America, the Soviets no longer had the "muscle" to effectuate this dream.

Looking around in the wake of the Soviet Union's collapse, it was not difficult to recognize the fact that radical Islamic terrorism offered a potential substitute.

Like the Soviets, Islam has never been the least bit squeamish about violence: In fact, with the exception of crude oil, violence and terrorism are about the only things these savage and backwards nations are capable of exporting.

Moreover, Islam seemed to exhibit a real enthusiasm for violence against Westerners, as evidenced by seemingly endless acts of terrorism perpetrated against innocent and unsuspecting civilian non-combatants for decades.

Indeed, most feverish adherents to the Islamic faith are probably best described as "Islamic Marxists," making this new alliance an easier fit than one might have presupposed.

JEWISH MARXISTS, AS ALWAYS

Oddly, America's Leftist Jews appear to be fully "on-board" with this new alliance, despite their 6,000 year-old blood feud with the Arabic Tribes.

Their newfound willingness to enter into a détente with an age-old enemy probably boils down to the fact that their commitment to international socialism and One-World Government "trumps" even their millennia-old hatred for their traditional Arab enemies.

There is much evidence to support this -- as will be developed later -- but perhaps nothing illustrates it better than the 80% support Barack Hussein Obama received from American Jews in his 2012 re-election victory.

Obama's support among Leftist Jews is also hinted at by the number of truly committed Leftist and Marxist Jews who have accepted prominent positions in the Obama administration.

Rahm Emanuel (Chief of Staff,) David Axelrod (Senior Advisor,) Elena Kagan (Solicitor General,) Jack Lew (Treasury,) Janet Yellen (Federal Reserve,) Sally Jewell (Interior,) Penny Pritzker (Commerce,) are but a few prominent examples of this phenomenon: None appear to have been troubled by the fact that Barack Hussein Obama is almost certainly a Muslim adherent, and seems to be on far friendlier terms with radical Islamic states -- such as Iran -- than he is with Israel.

In fact, the State of Israel appears to be the odd-man-out in this new relationship: This novel alliance of Marxist Jews and radical Islamic terrorists suggests that the former are even willing to sacrifice the security of the State of Israel to their higher and more immediate priority of destroying America.

Both sides in this alliance correctly recognize that with a radical Islamic Marxist in the White House -- like Obama -- a window of opportunity exists as never before to destroy America, which stands as the only realistic obstacle preventing their 100 year-old dream of a worldwide international socialist system run by committed Marxist Jews like themselves.

Barack Hussein Obama's tenure in office has afforded him endless opportunities to subvert not only the economy of the United States -- the “engines of democracy” -- but has also granted him unlimited opportunity to subvert our national security, both of which he has done with relish.

The members of this unholy alliance recognized early-on that once America falls, there is no stopping them in their quest: Thus, all other lower-priority agendas of the Left appear to have been sacrificed in order to seize this unique window of opportunity to bring America to its knees.

Indeed, in Obama, they have a champion who is actually committed to destroying America -- not merely content to give lip service to the exercise -- and they have never been so close to their ultimate objective as they now are.

ACCOMMODATING ISLAM

The fact that the Marxists in this country are completely committed to engaging in a conspiracy with Islam to help destroy America is evident in the lengths to which Leftists have routinely gone out of their way to accommodate Islamic terrorists, while defending their violent acts.

Perhaps the first hint of Treason was evidenced in Barack Hussein Obama’s pledge to close Guantanamo, and then give full Constitutional protection to the Islamic terrorists and enemy combatants of Al Qaeda and the Taliban, to whom he pledged to give civilian trials in federal court.

Another of Obama’s earliest acts of subversion was to convert NASA’s traditional space mission into some kind of “Islamic Outreach” function, probably in an attempt to camouflage the transfer of missile technology to radical Islamic terrorist states such as Iran.

Obama has also turned a blind eye toward Islamic terrorism by refusing to accurately label it as such, and intentionally refers to such incidents with ludicrous euphemisms such as “workplace violence,” as he did in the case of Major Nidal Hassan, who murdered 13 fellow servicemen at Fort Hood in 2009.

Obama’s recent “Treaty” with Iran -- in which $150 Billion was transferred to this terrorist nation and it was given a “green light” to produce a nuclear weapon -- speaks volumes about the goals and objectives of the traitors who staff the Obama Administration, and their willingness to fund and arm Islamic terrorist nations which are overtly hostile to America.

Every member of the Marxist “hive” instinctively recognizes his role: In 2012, a “Democrat” judge in Pennsylvania cited “Sharia Law” as binding in a criminal case, although Sharia Law is as irrelevant under the Constitution as the tribal customs of South American headhunters, which every high school Civics student knows.

Lower-echelon members of this Marxist alliance do not need to be given marching orders, either: For example, radical leftists within the teachers’ unions are only too ready and willing to do their part by indoctrinating naïve and gullible students about the “virtues” of Islam.

Public school students are regularly taken on field trips to Islamic Mosques, where they are proselytized by Muslims who sing the endless virtues of this “religion of Peace and Tolerance.” Naïve and vulnerable students are also routinely indoctrinated with “evidence” of the elevated status of women in Islamic Cultures. (No kidding!)

Perhaps the one action that best epitomizes the newfound willingness of America’s hard left to accommodate Islamic terrorists was Obama’s 2014 prisoner exchange.

Here, the White House arranged for the release of five of the most dangerous and savage Taliban and Al Qaeda terrorists held in Guantanamo, in exchange for an American traitor (Bowe Bergdahl,) who not only abandoned his post in Afghanistan, but may well have collaborated with the enemy and precipitated the deaths of fellow American servicemen.

Unbelievably, in a program called “Global Entry,” the Obama Administration has quietly rewarded Saudi Arabia -- the Middle Eastern country that produced most of the 9/11 hijackers -- with a special travel privilege that allows its nationals to bypass normal passport security controls at major U.S. airports.

THE OBAMA DOCTRINE

Yet, nowhere is the accommodation of Islamic radicalism and terrorism more evident than in what might be termed the “Obama Doctrine,” (my term,) which describes the Administration’s policy towards Middle Eastern Islamic States.

The "Obama Doctrine" is defined by the intentional subversion and continuing efforts to overthrow every Islamic Head of State in the Middle East who is not overtly hostile to America and engaged in a Jihad against the West.

This Doctrine has been evidenced in Libya, Egypt and the Sudan, where the Obama Administration has helped overthrow the Heads of State of these nations by arming their radical and violent opposition. It is currently on display in Syria, where Obama is actively engaged in arming any radical Islamic elements it can identify in their war against Assad.

The purpose of the Obama Doctrine is to render the vital areas of the Middle East as inhospitable to America (and the West) as possible, despite their strategic significance.

The Straits of Hormuz, the Med and the Gulf States are all targets of this grand conspiracy.

Meanwhile, Obama has allowed a flow of radical Islamists and members of the Moslem Brotherhood into prominent positions in his Administration, where they are perfectly situated to help effectuate this "doctrine," much as Soviet spies infiltrated the Roosevelt Administration in the 1930s and 1940s, with catastrophic results at Yalta, Potsdam and Cairo.

Make no mistake about it: The dismantling of America is not the result of the traditional bungling and incompetence usually found in "Democrat" Administrations: America is being intentionally subverted by Treasonous and Marxist elements within the Obama Administration and the "Democrat" Party, and their intent is to destroy us, once and for all. CHRISTIAN, ONCE AGAIN !

(To the tune of "A Nation, Once Again" by the Dubliners)

by Earl Holt III

When youthful fire was in my blood,
I read of Christian freemen.
At Concord Bridge they bravely stood,
And Lexington before then.
And so I prayed I yet might see
Our oppressors rent in twain,
And America, free of Pharisees,
Become Christian, once again!

Christian, once again,
Christian, once again,
American, free of Pharisees,
A Christian Nation, once again!

As they vowed in their "Protocols,"
Elders of Zion conspired,
To make our legal system fall
Like Financial ones they've mired.
And, the more I came to learn
Of their deceit and wrongful gain,
The more I knew we need return
Christianity, once again!

So, as I grew from boy to man,
I turned to such a calling.

Resisting every Zionist plan,
Their treachery so galling;
In this I hoped some day to aid,
Oh, can such hope be vain?
When my dear country shall be made
A Christian Nation, once again!

Christian, once again,
Christian, once again,
American, free of Pharisees,
A Christian Nation, once again!

Only too well can Christian life,
Its service high and Holy,
Be undermined by endless strife
Or chutzpah devious and lowly;
For, Freedom comes from God's right hand,
Such Truths are not profane;
America must make its stand,
Become Christian, once again

Christian, once again,
Christian, once again,
American, free of Pharisees,
A Christian Nation, once again! ©

Bind Us Apart:

How Enlightened Americans Invented Racial Segregation

By Nicholas Guyatt

(Basic, 403 pages, $29.99)

The author is an English historian who lectures on American History at Trinity Hall, University of Cambridge. Guyatt has done a praiseworthy job in creating this scholarly analysis which details the historic racial dichotomy of America and how it evolved.

As its author points out, from the very beginning, White colonists were confronted with the vexing problem of living in a nation with a racial hierarchy of Whites, Indians, Blacks and the need to share resources. Much of his book is devoted to the often violent conflicts between Whites and Indians.

Just as in our modern times, Whites in colonial times had a diversity of views about Blacks. There were those such as Comte de Buffon who believed that environmental factors were responsible for racial differences. Frances Wright — regarded as a radical in his own time — advocated integration and amalgamation as a final solution to resolve America's difficult racial dilemma.

On the other hand there were those like Thomas Jefferson who shared the perception that Blacks were inherently inferior, and should ultimately be sent back to Africa to prevent us from becoming a mulatto people through racial amalgamation. In fact, James Madison, James Monroe and Thomas Jefferson all endorsed colonization.

Liberia was founded on December 15, 1821 as a result of hard work on the part of the American Colonization Society. Colonization remained a popular solution to the "negro problem" throughout the Civil War and into the Reconstruction era. It should be noted that even Abraham Lincoln ("The Great Emancipator") favored sending freed slaves to Liberia.

From the beginning White settlers sought the Indian's land and ultimately marginalized them as they moved westward. One has to wonder if this is the future of European Americans as our nation becomes less European. Whites should be concerned that we will be pushed aside and marginalized by massive non-European immigration. It is a real concern that is increasingly found in the public discourse.

Our federal government embarked upon an agenda to encourage race mixing after WW II, culminating in the Supreme Court striking down Virginia's anti-miscegenation statute in the 1967 case of Loving v. Virginia. As a result, racial amalgamation has increased dramatically. Patriots should wonder what prompted our government to embark upon such a genocidal social engineering scheme?

History frequently repeats itself: With many millions of dysfunctional Black males in our midst, perhaps back-to-Africa colonization might offer a viable solution to preserve the racial and ethnic identity of Whites, and give Blacks a new beginning in the ancestral homelands of which they claim to be so proud. It is something to ponder.

This book is rich in substance and is highly recommended as a "must read" for conservatives who are concerned about the future of America's troubling racial landscape. Those who favor preservation of our race will discover that they are, indeed, in good company with men like Thomas Jefferson and many others.

Soviet Technology Confounds Obama's Neo-Soviet Occupation

By J.S. Mosby

In 1979, the Soviet Union's attempt to occupy Afghanistan using Mi-17 (Hind) helicopters and strong-pointed firebases came apart, leading to the Soviet retreat. Today, U.S. President Barack Obama is facing the same problems with the same technology, as his own neo-Soviet firebase occupation strategy -- modeled on the U.S. defeat in Vietnam -- comes apart.

Between 2001, when U.S. forces temporarily toppled the Afghan Taliban and 2014, when the U.S. declared sanctions against Vladimir Putin's Russian powerhouse, both the Bush and Obama regimes equipped their puppet forces with Russian-made Soviet technology, the cheapest stuff that they could find on the market.

As Obama's multi-cultural, homosexual and cross-dressing military forces were forced to withdraw -- since Obama didn't dare risk them in combat with real fighters -- he turned the Afghan occupation over to goat-herders, who were forced to pick up the slack with disastrous consequences.

More than one-sixth of the $19 million Mi-17 helicopters Obama bought for them have been lost, and more than half the remainder are disabled from lack of spare parts.

"Having that air power is a significant advantage to the Afghan forces that their adversaries don't have," U.S. Major General Jeff Taliaferro, Senior Allied Air Commander, told the press.

But in 2014, Obama imposed sanctions on Russia, barring the Pentagon from purchasing not only Mi-17s, but, also, spare parts for them. A "de-industrialized" U.S. economy lacks the capacity to replace their Russian suppliers, just as the U.S. space program has proven itself incapable of replacing Russian rocket engines necessary for everything from space travel to nuclear missile launches.

The Pentagon, never one to care about international law, has worked around the sanctions by breaking them and contracting helicopter repair work out to firms in Bulgaria, Slovakia, and, the Czech Republic, all of whom purchase their parts from Russia. But, the State Department is now complaining, pointing out that the Pentagon is breaking not only international, but also federal law.

Obama, like any black African chieftain, has nothing but disdain for law. But, there is a push from the neocon, neoliberal, and ultimately Zionist Jews who control his administration to authorize funds to completely re-equip the Afghan air force with American-made -- but Third World outsourced -- equipment, all at U.S. taxpayer expense.

Given the problems facing the Afghan air force, it's not clear that such a re-fit would assist the fledgling Afghan military. The U.S. has purchased 54 Mi-17 helicopters for their goat-herding allies, but nine of them have been lost so far this year.

An increasingly well-equipped Taliban enemy has shot four down, the same enemy that Bush told us was destroyed fifteen years ago. Three have been lost due to pilot error. One was destroyed when a soldier on board fumbled a grenade, and another was destroyed when another helicopter, sitting with it on the ground, accidentally opened fire instead of taking off. Of the remainder, 24 are grounded and lacking spare parts.

The effect has been to reduce the number of missions that the Afghan Air Force can fly by about 70 percent. The average Afghan corps of 18,000 troops only has three helicopters, enough to transport half a company simultaneously: Now, the average Afghan army corps has zero working. This means that instead of flying from their isolated fire-bases into the battle zone, the Afghans must take Humvees along one-lane mountain roads, with predictable consequences.

"I think the urgency is clear," Taliaferro told the press.

So American taxpayers, who have already seen Trillions squandered on conquering and holding part of this God-forsaken mountain-desert in the middle of nowhere, may now have to foot Billions more to give their goat-herding allies more helicopters to wreck, instead of using that money to feed poor White children or build a wall between the United States and Mexico.

While House Republicans, who are just as corrupt as the Democratic Zionists they nominally oppose, have no

A ST. LOUIS KWANZAA

by Earl P. Holt III

*'Twas the night before Kwanzaa, and all through the hood,
Its denizens were restless, and up to no good.
Lookouts were perched at each corner with care,
To alert all the crack-dens if PO-lice came there.*

*Fumes of "Mad Dog" and weed wafted strong through the air,
While addicts shot smack with nary a care.
The children all braided their corn-rows real tight,
Hoping some white "mark" might stray by that night.*

*The Crips and the Bloods made their Holiday Peace,
Vowing in common to "F the PO-lice."
And even the whiggers hid under their beds,
While visions of race riots danced in their heads.*

*In a crack-house, some scofflaws were lighting more rock,
When all of a sudden, there came a loud knock:
Then what to their wondering eyes did appear?
But St. Louis' Finest, in full riot gear!*

*Doors tore from their hinges and crashed to the floor,
As miscreants screamed, terrified to their core.
The cops went to work with their nightsticks in hand,
Swinging at skulls as the criminals ran.*

*A beating ensued as they tried to escape,
AND NOBODY GOT IT ON VIDEOTAPE!
A loud cry was heard by those able to flee,
"Happy Kwanzaa, you punks, from the SLPD."*

problem with this. However, America's White working class is saying something different, something that the IMF-World Bankers who installed the current Afghan government don't want to hear.

How this quandary will play out is not clear. Obama still has the power to wreck the United States for another two months but, if Donald Trump is elected President, there is a very good chance that these kinds of corrupt ventures will be shut down. (END)

PEARL HARBOR: THE TRUTH WILL "OUT"

By Earl P. Holt III

One of the more fascinating aspects of Stalin's Secret Agents by Stan Evans and Herbert Romerstein is their unique theory – first hinted at by Evans in his "Blacklisted by History" – that the attack on Pearl Harbor may have been orchestrated by Soviet Agents inside the Roosevelt Administration.

This is not mere speculation, but a reasonable interpretation by knowledgeable experts of the many details that have ultimately come to light concerning what the authors call "...the complex maneuvering of Communist and pro-Moscow elements during the run-up to Pearl Harbor..."

After the Nazi invasion of Russia in the summer of 1941 -- and finding his forces in a life-and-death struggle on their Western Front -- Stalin's greatest fear was a second attack from the East by the Nazi's Axis-ally, Japan: In effect, this would have created the logistical nightmare of defending against a two-front invasion, separated by nearly 5,000 miles.

Consequently, Soviet Intelligence alerted its Agents in the West to begin efforts to maneuver Japan into a war in the South Pacific, a strategy clearly intended to benefit Russia by diverting Japanese forces away from the vulnerable Soviet Eastern Provinces. It didn't matter to Stalin who the Japanese attacked there -- American, British or Dutch interests -- so long as it was not Russia, herself.

Meanwhile, Army Chief of Staff General George Marshall and Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Harold Stark both advised the Roosevelt Administration to enter into a truce with the Japanese, a recommendation echoed by our veteran U.S. Ambassador to Japan, Joseph Grew.

Grew and the Army and Navy high commands felt that America was unprepared to enter into a Pacific war with the Japanese at that time, and felt that a truce with Japan was the wisest course of action. Moreover, according to Grew, the Japanese were emphatic in their desire to enter into just such a truce.

Fearing that any treaty with America would free Japanese forces to attack Russia -- and open up an Eastern Front that Stalin so greatly feared -- these Soviet Assets began feverish efforts behind the scenes to thwart the advice of U.S. military and diplomatic experts, and set about sabotaging any possibility of the U.S. establishing such a truce.

Instrumental in this treachery was FDR's de facto civilian Chief of Staff, a Soviet spy named Lauchlin Currie (Soviet codename "Page,") Harry Dexter White at the Treasury Department (Soviet Codenamed "Jurist,") and Owen Lattimore, an Asia expert named as a Soviet spy by defecting communists in Congressional testimony.

These three ran interference to prevent the opinion of military and diplomatic experts from becoming formal policy in Washington, thus benefitting their Soviet Masters by obstructing any kind of truce between the U.S and Japan.

One method used to achieve this result was to portray such an agreement as a "betrayal" of our loyal ally, Chiang Kai Shek, the anti-communist guerilla leader then fighting the invading Japanese. Harry Dexter White, the Soviet NKVD's "mole" at the Treasury Department called any truce with Japan a "sell-out of China to her enemies," with equally strong condemnations echoed by both Lattimore and Currie.

This chorus of opposition to a truce with Japan eventually sealed its fate, and the idea was scrapped by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who cited the opposition of Chiang Kai Shek as instrumental and operative in his decision.

The irony is that we have only the word of a Soviet spy, Owen Lattimore, that this was actually Chiang's opinion, and Chiang would have been almost totally dependant upon whatever intelligence Lattimore fed him in the first place.

In any event, two weeks before Pearl Harbor, the truce proposal was scrapped in favor of a hard-line ultimatum to Japan -- written by Harry Dexter White no less! -- that demanded the withdrawal of all Japanese forces from Chinese soil. Thus was Japan left with little alternative than to attack the U.S.

Moreover, it is instructive that a mere three years later, when Chiang's anti-communist forces were battling the communist forces of Mao Tse-tung for control of China,

Revenge, Retaliation and Reprisal

Book Review By Nancy Hitt (hunleyhitt@gmail.com)

Articles continue to be drafted about inhumane house burnings, beatings, tortures and murders that occurred in several Northwest Missouri counties that became the battleground of Quantrill and the James and Younger brothers. Those interested in the War for Southern Independence are likely familiar with the "burnt district" where chimneys stood as soulful sentinels in that area.

Clint Lacy's book, Blood in the Ozarks: Union War Crimes Against Southern Sympathizers and Civilians in Occupied Missouri covers similar Union outrages that took place in Southeast Missouri. It focuses upon events that took place in 1863 and 1864, especially one particularly outrageous killing of civilians on Christmas Day, 1863, and the burning of the town of Doniphan.

The author investigates a controversial Union attack which took place in Ripley County in southeast Missouri, in which some 60 civilians of all ages and 30 or more Confederate soldiers were ambushed and gunned down while attending a Christmas Day celebration at the Tom Pulliam farm.

There have been some particularly vocal Yankee supporters who denied this massacre ever occurred: However, Clint Lacy used a variety of documents and witness testimonies to prove this Union atrocity actually did take place. The officer accused of ordering this massacre was Union Major James Wilson of the 3rd Missouri State Militia.

Christmas was typically a day of restricted military operations, but Major Wilson used this sacred day as an opportunity to attack Confederate soldiers enjoying dinner with a group of civilians. The release of Union prisoners held captive by the Confederates at that farm was used as a pretext to justify the slaughter of women, children and old men, as well as Confederate Soldiers in attendance.

Months later, Major Wilson and six of the soldiers who participated in the massacre (or the burning down of the town of Doniphan) were executed by the Confederates in retaliation. The unfortunate outcome of these executions came in the form of an equally deadly reprisal: Union forces retaliated by executing six randomly-selected Confederate prisoners in St. Louis, 150 miles to the North.

Clint Lacy is a life-long Missourian, born in southeastern Missouri and is a member of the Sons of Confederate Veterans. His works have been published in The Barnes Review and on a variety of websites.

The 3R's of revenge, retaliation and reprisal, culminating in the Union execution of six innocent Confederates, was directly linked to the Wilson Massacre and the burning down of the town of Doniphan.

these very same Soviet Agents successfully destroyed Chiang with an equally skillful chorus of lies and vitriol -- while unilaterally withholding $200 Million in gold promised Chiang by FDR -- in order to benefit the communist Mao Tse-tung, a Soviet ally at the time.

For 75 years, there has been endless speculation about how such a disaster as the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor could have occurred. Unfortunately, any investigation was limited by one crucial omission: The full extent of Soviet penetration of the Roosevelt Administration was unknown until 1995, when the VENONA Cables were finally released under the Freedom of Information Act. SURVEY RE CofCC NATIONAL CONFERENCES

The Executive Board of the CofCC is weighing the value of holding our National Conferences. Currently, we are focused on educational and informational efforts using the CITIZENS INFORMER and our Website.

Communists and their henchmen "of color" have made it very difficult to organize such Conferences: These cowards threaten the lives and safety of hotel employees in order to force the cancellation of our reservations, as they did with our 2015 Nashville Conference.

It is obvious that this criminal element fears the truths we tell, since truth is their greatest enemy. That's why the vast majority of their efforts involve attempts to censor any conservative opposition.

This could be mistakenly interpreted as some sort of retreat, but it is not: Instead, it really involves redirecting our efforts and activities where our resources can be best utilized.

Moreover, there are other legitimate reasons to forsake holding National Conferences, including the expense and effort involved in organizing them. Few Members realize just how much trouble they are to plan, and how expensive the mailings and reservations are, in addition to the costs of airline fares and accommodations for guest speakers.

For these reasons, we would like to hear from Members. Please complete the following brief survey, in which we ask only two questions:

#1 Should the CofCC continue to hold National Conferences? (YES) (NO)

#2 If the CofCC held a National Conference in a safe venue (Central Tennessee), is it likely that you would attend the next one? (YES) (NO)

SLUMLORD

by Earl P. Holt III ©

FORWARD

In October of 1984, I bought a beautiful, 100 year old 18-unit apartment building in the nearly all-black area of St. Louis, Missouri known as "north" St. Louis. My building was located across a major thoroughfare from the now-vacant tract of land that once housed St. Louis' infamous Pruit-Igoe Public Housing Project, (destroyed by savages, and ultimately dynamited in the mid-1970s.) What at the time seemed like the fairly straightforward act of purchasing a rental property to rehab, became the definitive experience of my life.

My 135 foot-long by 50 foot-wide building was two stories high, had a "Federal" facade, and took up a quarter of an entire city block. Despite these features, its purchase price was only $12,500, with $5,000 down and the balance financed at 8.5 percent. These remarkably attractive terms are evidence of the depressed nature of most rental real estate in predominately black areas: These terms reflect the unique difficulties of owning and managing property rented to blacks in this era of drugs, violence, irresponsibility, incivility, crime and other manifestations of the welfare subculture.

Over the next 4 years, while I daily attempted to repair and improve it, my building experienced five or six murders, and was often fired upon by shotguns and high-powered rifles. In addition, I learned more about lower-class blacks, drugs, violence and the many scams of the welfare state than all our politicians, social workers, policy "wonks," or welfare apologists will ever know. There is no substitute for actually being there and seeing these depredations on a daily basis.

Moreover, it's probably an ironclad principal of human behavior that you never really "know" someone -- or at least you never really have insight into someone's character -- until you've done business with them. Without exception, leftists who pontificate about welfare, blacks, "inner cities," or the "underclass" are posturing frauds, liars, and hypocrites: Their minimal contact with the underclass has rarely (if ever) included a business relationship with these, the very objects of their misplaced sympathies.

A wise man once remarked that (paraphrase) "Nothing cures an enthusiasm for integration like a good dose of niggers." Likewise, few experiences in life work to cool an enthusiasm for the "plight of the underclass" like extended contact with them. Just as there are few liberal cops, THERE ARE NO LIBERAL SLUMLORDS!

Which brings me to the purpose of this book: I wish to dispel the laughable notion of the "noble" poor in America's inner cities, a ludicrous stereotype subscribed to by whores in the Corrupt Leftist Media, liberals, socialists, bleeding hearts, do-gooders, poverty pimps, and the endless litany of other apologists for our cesspool-like welfare system, each of whom has a vested interest in perpetuating it FOREVER! There is nothing at all "noble" about the denizens of the "underclass," a fact which most would be perfectly willing to concede after the four or five stiff drinks necessary to pry the truth from them.

In fact, most members of the underclass are only too aware of how sordid their lives and those around them are: So much so that they find it extremely disconcerting when a white man becomes privy to such insights through personal experience, and is confronted with the stunningly unpleasant reality that there's compelling validity to most (if not ALL!) of even the worst stereotypes ascribed to lower-class blacks.

In addition to describing the extremely sordid nature of underclass existence, I also wish to dispel the quaint notion that such an ignoble fate arbitrarily devolves upon innocent or undeserving people from "out of the blue." Most members of the underclass are singularly responsible for their own plight, and have worked diligently over the years to ensure their predicaments through their actions and choices on an almost-daily basis.

With few exceptions, the homeless and near-homeless members of the underclass have cheated, lied to, vandalized, burglarized, robbed (or even killed!) every landlord from whom they've ever rented.

Moreover, the choice to use illegal drugs, the choice to sell drugs as an alternative to real employment, the reflexive nature of their lies, "get-overs" and crime, the proliferation of illegitimate children, the option to accept welfare as a substitute for working, the choice to use violence as a means of dispute settlement, the willingness to condone criminal conduct by family or friends, and the ubiquity of alcohol and drug consumption, all contribute to their predicaments.

Also, I wish to illustrate why the largely black areas that are found within America's inner cities inevitably become dangerous, squalid cesspools, which no intelligent person – fully aware of what they were getting into -- would ever consider owning or managing. (I was a naive FOOL !) As much as any other factor, this accounts for the housing "shortages" in all-black areas: A situation often cited by socialists and social engineers as "deplorable," requiring massive and expensive federal housing initiatives.

In point of fact, the condition of inner city housing is an inevitable consequence of the caliber of people who routinely inhabit such areas, and no amount of federal money will ever change that fact.

In order to make this book as entertaining as possible, I will include as much underclass "vernacular" as I can reasonably use without disrupting its flow or offending sensitive readers. I will also attempt to illustrate the dynamics of certain behavior patterns and practices that are unique to underclass blacks.

Honest readers will gain a much better understanding of the entire welfare subculture, and will be far better equipped to enter the public policy debates surrounding housing and welfare. Leftist readers may come away from this book no wiser for the experience: However, they'll be much better informed!

YANCY

When I first bought my apartment building, I immediately experienced severe problems collecting rent. I eventually came to realize that this is a permanent feature of the low-income rental landscape. At the time, however, I knew no better and subscribed to quaint, "Eurocentric" notions of individual responsibility, fairness, legal obligations, quid pro quo, and other anachronistic traditions, which I naively assumed were shared by underclass blacks as essential preconditions for commerce to prosper. (I had been indoctrinated with such cant in high school and college!)

I also had the added difficulty of trying to compile an accurate roster of my legal and current tenants. This latter problem stemmed from a number of characteristics unique to the inner cities and its denizens, one of which is the fact that many black "squatters" simply kick-in doors when the opportunity presents itself, and move into a building without benefit of permission, lease, or rent.

Often, a family or group living arrangement finds this necessary after being evicted from another building, or after they have destroyed one by fire or neglect. Rather than face life "on the street," they scout around for a building which isn't carefully managed, and whose occupants are equally at home in squalid surroundings. After finding a likely candidate, all that is required is to kick down the door, move in, and then prop the door in position behind them. At this point, they are "adequately" housed until they are evicted again.

One such individual was a small, wiry black male in his early to mid 20s named "Yancy," who I found residing in my building after I took possession following closing. This was puzzling, since there was no indication of any kind describing Yancy in the records maintained by the management company hired by the previous owner.

Yancy's most distinctive physical feature was a pronounced "wall-eyed" look. It would be laughable to say that his eyes "focused," since they were aimed about 45 degrees apart. In all probability, the number "45" described his I.Q. as well.

Despite his staggering intellectual shortcomings, he was nevertheless quite accomplished at lying and evasion. This he demonstrated to me for several months by successfully avoiding the Process Servers from the Sheriff's office, who attempted to serve him on the "Unlawful Detainer" (eviction) brought against him by the new management firm I had retained at that time.

Yancy lived with a girlfriend of equivalent class and character, along with their two or three year-old child. I often observed Yancy dragging the child around in a haphazard manner, reminiscent of the subjects of Jane Goodall's research, who were often filmed dragging their young about by a single limb, in an equally absentminded manner.

Yancy had moved in illegally, never paid rent to anyone, and had no intention of EVER paying rent under ANY circumstances in his lifetime. Yet, whenever Yancy saw me working around the building, he invariably called out to me to inform me that his toilet didn't work.

Needless to say, I was in no great hurry to repair anything for this low-life, and had become exceedingly frustrated by the inability of the management company's lawyers to successfully evict this bastard in small claims court. I usually responded with a wave of my hand and by muttering something sarcastic like, "You bet Yancy: I'll get right on it, as soon as I can."

It would never have occurred to him that there was an element of irony in any request for me to fix something in the apartment of someone who had kicked in its door, had gained entry illegally, had never paid a dime in rent, and who I was desperately trying to evict. In fact, he was a trespasser, if not guilty of breaking and entering.

The only thought that seemed to penetrate his extremely thick, "Homo Habilis"-like skull was the notion that something in his apartment was broken, and I was the appropriate person to repair it. That such requests normally involve legal obligations arising from a landlord-tenant relationship -- in which a lease is signed and rent is paid -- was apparently beyond his capacity to comprehend.

Yancy was also a risk to the other tenants. Whether he had ever had a working account with the utility companies is a mystery known only to them and himself, but he did take the initiative to do a little "wiring" in his unit.

This effort consisted of his stringing a series of coat hangers from the electrical "weatherhead," (where the overhead electric lines are connected to a building,) and illegally running this improvisation through the exterior brick wall and into his unit to obtain electricity. It also brought an entirely new dimension to the expression "nigger-rigged!"

In addition to the extreme danger of electrical shock from 60 Amps and 110 volts carried by these thin, non-insulated wires, there was the added risk of fire, since his "wiring" job threw off impressive sparks whenever the wind blew. For these reasons I contacted the electric company in St. Louis to disconnect his overhead lines immediately after discovering the situation during my first week of ownership.

One day a churchwoman I knew named Essie Bates happened by my building, said hello, and asked how things were going. "Mother Bates" as she was called, had earlier expressed an interest in obtaining an apartment for her daughter, Beckie and the daughter's boyfriend, Clint, should a vacancy occur. We were on friendly terms at the time.

"Well, Earl, how are things going" she asked with her usual good cheer.

"Oh fine, Mrs. Bates" I responded, "Except I'm having trouble with this one tenant."

"Who's giving you trouble?" she asked indignantly.

"Oh, this guy named 'Yancy': I can't get him out," I said.

Spying him half-way across the back yard, she hollered out to him: "YANCY: GET YO' ASS OVER HERE THIS MINUTE!"

"Yes Ms. Bates," a sheepish and demonstrably cowed Yancy replied, as he shuffled over to her, head bowed, in a manner appropriately reminiscent of the "Step'n'Fetchit" character.

"Yancy," she says, "You get yo' ass out of here by tomorrow mornin', and don't you never bother this man again."

"Yes Ms. Bates," he muttered unhappily. (I, on the other hand, silently sang her praises to the Heavens!)

When I mentioned Yancy to her, I had no idea Mrs. Bates had ever met him in her life. Ironically, it turned out that Mrs. Bates was Yancy's "Godmother." (This, I learned later, meant she had provided foster care for him, making her eligible for AFDC or some sort of state funding until he reached the age of 21.)

"Mother" Bates had apparently done this with as many as ten or twelve children, a brood which must have provided a very respectable "cash-flow," at least until they reached 21, as many now appeared to be doing. This explained her interest in lining up rental units for her favorite children.

The notion that many lower-class blacks see children as a meal-ticket, rather than an end in themselves, is not novel to those who have extended experience with them.

One summer evening, returning from dinner at the home of friends in a fashionable area of south St. Louis, I was stopped at a traffic light near my house when a car pulled up alongside me in the adjacent lane. Their windows were rolled down, as were mine, and I heard the black male passenger say to the black female driver, "Bitch, give me some o' that check: Thass MY baby, too!"

In any event, Yancy WAS out by the next morning, the fear of Mother Bates having motivated him in a way that no process-server from the Sheriff's office or small claims judge ever could have done. Yancy was, however, correct about his toilet: When we finally got into his unit to clear it out, his toilet was, indeed, in desperate need of service.

He and his girlfriend had filled the toilet to its rim with human waste until it overflowed onto the floor, forming menacing black puddles around the base of the toilet. After they filled the toilet to overflowing, they then apparently improvised by using several 5 gallon plastic buckets in which drywall cement and paint are sold. Three or four of these were evident in one corner of the kitchen, where they too remained neglected after also being filled to overflowing.

Being practical folks, when they finally ran out of plastic buckets, they flipped their refrigerator onto its back -- their electric having been disconnected long ago! -- and eliminated their waste into their now superfluous refrigerator!

To say the stench was overwhelming would be a gross understatement. There are few things on Earth that smell as bad as human waste products that have been permitted to decompose for several months without proper disposal.

Fortunately, I never saw Yancy again, nor was his name ever again uttered, which suited me just fine. However, the smell that lingered for months in Yancy's former unit was a constant reminder to me that evolution is not an inevitable feature of the human condition.
