

Another Black Crook in D.C.

Proving beyond any reasonable doubt that nigras don't have the intellect or judgement to vote, hold public office, or serve on juries, the overwhelmingly black city of Washington, D.C. recently ELECTED A MURDERER TO PUBLIC OFFICE THERE.

Washington's newest crooked black office-holder is a murderer residing in the D.C. jail named Joel Gaston, who is currently serving 26 years for ambushing and murdering another man. He has been elected a Commissioner on DC's Advisory Neighborhood Commission (ANC) which supposedly advises the D.C. Council and local government on matters involving public safety.

The ANC's website states that its purpose is to bring "government closer to the people and to bring the people closer to the government." Gaston's election demonstrates that he is certainly representative of D.C.'s citizens, particularly in light of the city's record murder rates projected for 2021.

Gaston is to represent Ward 7, a nearly all-black area consisting of the city's most savage and criminal examples of Africanus criminalis. Commissioner Gaston should bring a great deal of personal insight into matters of public safety, since his own career of violence was demonstrably deterred by his timely incarceration.

While there's nothing novel about crooked n*ggers holding office in D.C., those who do so are usually able to skirt detection BEFORE they assume office. Then, once elected -- and thanks to BLACK SKIN PRIVILEGE -- they have license to continue their lives of crime like other black public officials in black-run cities.

In 2020, Washington's D.C. Council enacted legislation to allow convicted felons to vote, which is like hiring Typhoid Mary as your Public Health Inspector. Let's hope our Congressmen and Senators remember this when they consider "statehood" for D.C.

ANC Commissioner Joel "Mad Dog" Gaston.
