

Dynamics of Republican Betrayal

by Earl P. Holt III

The term "Donor Class" is often used to refer to wealthy or powerful elites who possess far greater power and influence than the vast majority of their fellow citizens. Its members act behind the scenes to shape public policy, often for their personal benefit. While America has been betrayed by its Donor Class for decades, it's the GOP's Donor Class that most directly betrays conservative principles because it has the most influence on the careers of Republican officeholders.

Much like the "Nomenklatura" that ruled the former Soviet Union, our Donor Class is united in its efforts to accumulate power, advance a generally leftist and "globalist" strategy, and enrich itself. This is true even when its self-enrichment primarily benefits our mortal enemies like communist China. These objectives conflict with the interests of most Americans, for whom the principle of "popular sovereignty" leaves no room for a self-anointed and self-dealing aristocracy.

The routine betrayal of conservative and Republican principles by some in the GOP has taken place for decades. Many Republican candidates who campaigned for Congress as "conservatives" almost immediately begin to betray us the day they arrived in Washington. (Former Congresswoman Mia Love (Quisling-UT-04) and former Senator Jeff Flake (Traitor-AZ) come immediately to mind. This is the reason so many conservative Republican voters are frequently angry: they often feel betrayed, and rightly so.

The late Sam Francis used to call the Republican Party "gracious losers," because the GOP has never been willing to go on the offensive and retaliate against the treachery of the New Communist Party of the USA (NCPUSA,) laughingly called "Democrats." With his characteristically droll sense of humor, Pat Buchanan once quipped (paraphrase) "If Democrats submitted a bill to burn down the Capitol Building, Republicans would offer an alternative amendment to phase it in over three years."

It's no great secret that the influence of America's "Donor Class" has converted many otherwise sincere and principled Republicans into castrated and traitorous double-dealers, who routinely betrayed their constituents, their state, their party and the Constitution, while greedily feathering their own nests. As the old cliché suggests, one need only "follow the money." Congressional salaries are not generous compared to equivalent positions of responsibility found in the private sector, which simplifies the task of seducing many Republicans into what basically amounts to bribery.

Contributions by large corporations or the very wealthy to the campaigns of Senate and House Members dwarf the average Republican individual campaign contribution. When corporations max-out legal limits on donations to a given candidate in both primary and general elections -- and encourage their employees to contribute to the same candidate -- the result is often the equivalent of months of fundraising efforts among individual donors. However, rarely are such large contributions given without preconditions, which often consist of specific votes in committee or on the floor of the House or Senate.

Readers have seen this phenomenon many times, but may not have consciously recognized it when it occurred. When Mitch McConnell advised Trump's Attorney General Bob Barr to refrain from investigating the stolen November 2020 election, that was clear example. Or, when ostensibly "Republican" officeholders in swing states -- like Georgia's Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger and Governor Brian Kemp -- willfully obstruct efforts by Georgia's Republican legislature to investigate 2020 election fraud, the resulting stench is bribe money being dangled by a corrupt Donor Class.

Likewise, when Lindsey Graham angrily and repeatedly vowed to hold Senate Judiciary Committee hearings on the Mueller Investigation and then, inexplicably never did, it was because he got the memo from his large donors. Or, when ostensibly "Republican" Members of Congress like Liz Cheney (Traitor-WY-01) and Adam Kinzinger (Quisling-IL-16) are willing to participate in phony and unconstitutional kangaroo court proceedings -- like the January 6 Commission -- they have been seduced by our Republican Donor Class, which dangled promises of sinecures or financial support for future undertakings.

Moreover, those who run for Congress cannot fail to recognize the vast opportunities awaiting them once they retire their Congressional seat, opportunities which can be extremely lucrative and rarely involve much heavy-lifting. Seats on FORTUNE 500 Boards-of-Directors sometimes pay more per year than their previous Congressional Salary, and can often involve additional, large financial "incentive" payments merely for attending.

Such plums are only offered to "team-players" such as Mitt Romney, Mitch McConnell, Susan Collins, Lisa Murkowski, Ben Sasse, Liz Cheney or Adam Kinzinger, who are willing to do their bidding. They are NEVER offered to those who "rock the boat," such as Senators Ted Cruz, Rand Paul, Tom Cotton, Marsha Blackburn, Mike Braun, Tom Tuberville, Ron Johnson or Josh Hawley. They are also never offered to principled House Members, either, such as the brave and courageous folks who belong to the GOP's House Freedom Caucus.

Campaign contributions by Donor Class Republicans act like a "governor" on a vehicle, a device that prevents it from gaining much speed. Whatever their motive may be, the Donor Class works aggressively behind the scenes to ensure that men and women of courage and principle are NEVER PERMITTED TO LEAD THE REPUBLICAN PARTY. That's why it favored Gerald Ford over Ronald Reagan in 1976, and why it opposed Reagan in 1980 and Donald Trump in 2016 and 2020. They are naturally suspicious of independent-minded men and women who possess honor and integrity.

That's also why -- in truly Machiavellian fashion -- the Donor Class has used its power and influence to ensure that the GOP is usually led by mediocrities or traitors who muzzle our conservative enthusiasms and stifle conservative reforms that would actually work and should have become law decades ago. Recent examples would be the tepid presidential campaigns of Mitt Romney and John McCain, and the elevation of such devious traitors as John Boehner and Paul Ryan to Speaker of the House.

EXAMPLES

As Chairman of the House Intelligence Committee In 2017 and 2018, Devin Nunes exposed the coup against President Trump by treasonous Obama hold-overs at the DOJ and FBI. At least a dozen top DOJ and FBI officials perjured themselves to obtain FISA warrants to spy on Donald Trump, both as a candidate and as President. Paul Ryan rejected more than 30 subpoenas requested by Chairman Devin Nunes to depose those treasonous bastards and expose their false allegations of "Russia collusion" against the Trump Campaign. That's BETRAYAL, pure and simple! Ryan's obedience to the Donor Class was rewarded with a seat on the Board of Directors at Fox News.

Charles Cannady is currently the Chief Justice of Florida's Supreme Court. Each of his four terms in the House, he submitted a bill to its Judiciary Committee to eliminate "Affirmative Action" and race quotas, but his bills never even got voted out of committee for a "floor vote." This was true even though the GOP controlled both Houses of Congress for three of his four terms, prompting Canady to retire in disgust. This unconstitutional form of racism infects hiring practices in every sector of the nation, but elected officials have never been held accountable for perpetuating this outrage. One very good reason is the fear among quislings in our GOP Donor Class of being denounced as "racists" by race-hustlers and their leftist enablers.

Likewise, many RINOs in the House and Senate -- who in 2021 helped enact Joe Biden's $1.7 Trillion "Infrastructure Bill" -- suddenly began to sound like "fiscal conservatives" when it later came to Biden's $1.7 Trillion "Build Back Bolshevik" bill. Most GOP supporters appear to have regretted their earlier betrayal by voting for the "Infrastructure Bill," which was really just a pared-down version of Bernie Sanders' "Green New Deal." Their constituents recognized this fact as surely as they did, and they heard from those constituents loud and clear. However, those who had earlier voted for the "Infrastructure Bill" did so because they were given marching orders by the Donor Class, which they obediently followed.

Similarly, House Republicans who voted to Impeach Trump -- and those in the Senate who voted to Convict Trump -- knew perfectly well that every charge brought against Trump in both Impeachments were fraudulent. These RINOs were merely obeying instructions from the Donor Class, which likely promised them additional financial support in return for their votes. Ever since Trump's 2016 Presidential Election, the Donor Class has been scheming to regain control of the GOP, and phony Impeachment charges by the NCPUSA offered a fortuitous opportunity for a quick and effective means of ridding the party of Trump and reasserting Donor Class control.

Another glaring example of betrayal was evident among Republican Senators who voted for Obama's "Iran Deal". It rewarded Iran's decades-long sponsorship of international terrorism by transferring to it more than $150 Billion in frozen Iranian assets and a cash gift of $2 Billion in U.S. dollars. In return, the Obama regime received vague and unverifiable promises by Iran not to pursue its nuclear weapons program. Iran took that money and continued full-speed-ahead with its nuclear program.

As Chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Bob Corker (Treasonist-TN) used devious legislative tactics to enact the Iran Deal with a simple majority vote, rather than the two-thirds majority required for Treaties under Article II of the Constitution. Spineless Republicans went along with Corker because of pressure from the Donor Class to grant America's first black President an illusory foreign policy "victory" that will continue to generate conflict in the Middle East for decades.

Those House and Senate "Republicans" also knowingly betrayed America by supporting the "Dream Act" that would have granted amnesty to the offspring of illegal aliens. Even a child can see that most immigrants from Third World nations -- whether legal or otherwise -- do not successfully assimilate and the VAST majority end up on various forms of public assistance, usually one of the eight federal welfare programs. The "Dream Act" would merely have created additional incentives for even more illegals to enter the U.S. Immigration is a Trojan Horse to turn RED states into BLUE states through massive "Democrat" voter fraud by illegal aliens, and the Dream Act is merely one of several approaches.

The Donor Class has also traditionally applauded trade with communist nations such as the USSR and China, primarily because there were fortunes to be made by grain exporters and large banks from trade "credits" and federally-guaranteed loans to our Soviet enemy. Likewise, Tec companies were seduced by low labor costs in China. It was foolishly claimed that trade would make communist nations "dependent" upon the West. Not surprisingly, both the Republican and NCPUSA Donor Classes are heavily invested in China.

In reality, U.S. loans and “trade credits” to the Soviet Union in the 1970s allowed the USSR to divert resources into building the largest and most aggressively expansionist military in world history. The Soviets didn't fund its army, navy, and air force, American politicians and America's Donor Class did! (Lenin is alleged to have quipped that “Capitalists will sell us the rope we'll use to hang them.”) Reagan ended this charade, which is one reason why the Donor Class opposed his presidential candidacies.

Likewise, for three decades the rapid growth of the Chinese economy was achieved primarily at the expense of U.S. national security and economic growth. China has violated the terms of its admission to the World Trade Organization and its grant of Most Favored Nation trade status while a bi-partisan Congress turned a blind eye. For decades, China has annually stolen $500 Billion worth of U.S. intellectual property, applied high tariffs on U.S. imports in order to generate $500 Billion annual trade surpluses with the U.S., and routinely manipulated its currency. Such trade policy catastrophes could not have been achieved without Republican approval or at least Republican acquiescence.

In a final example of Donor Class manipulation, President Ronald Reagan was persistently pressured by the Republican Donor Class to remove the Pro-Life Pledge from the GOP Platform that he demanded be included as its 1980 candidate and party leader. The supposedly “sophisticated” GOP Donor Class was embarrassed by the growing influence of scruffy evangelical Christians in the party who opposed abortion, and the Donor Class relentlessly tried to convince Reagan to reverse himself on the issue.

Reagan's silly wife -- the one who regularly consulted astrologers -- even set-up ambushes for The Gipper, such as an intimate dinners with long-time financial supporters who were pro-abortion. Reagan had too much honor to reverse himself on what he considered an existential and moral issue, so he adamantly refused to do their bidding.

CONCLUSION

For many decades, wealthy elites have misguided both U.S. domestic and foreign policy by corrupting Republican office-holders using their financial resources as leverage. The GOP Donor Class has routinely stifled conservative reforms and solutions and in the process, they have done grave harm to both the Constitution and to the fabric of our political and cultural institutions.

Bluntly stated, the Donor Class has made a hash out of just about every policy that bears its influence. However, the one thing our Donor Class has actually done well is to insulate itself from the ravages of its own failed policies. After all, the children of our Donor Class need never compete with immigrants for employment or academic opportunities where race quotas are imposed to disadvantage whites, just as our Donor Class would never consider living near the squalid barrios and ghettos their immigration policies have created here in the U.S.

More than anything, the election of Donald Trump was a repudiation of the flawed 50-year treasonous “leadership” of our self-anointed Donor Class. That's why the Republican Donor Class worked so hard to defeat him and then later attempted to destroy him. In the process they have come very close to destroying the very soul of America under the guise of promoting their greedy, twisted and narrow self-interests.
