

Hillary's Spy Network

by Earl P. Holt III

Special Counsel John Durham has peeled back the endless layers of Russiagate to expose the criminality of the Clinton Spy Network. Durham charges that Hillary Clinton's personal spy network illegally hacked into Donald Trump's private e-mail servers in Trump Tower and the Oval Office after he assumed the presidency.

In the fall of 2016, embroiled in her e-mail and influence-peddling scandal from her days as Obama's Secretary of State, Hillary engaged in a diversionary tactic to rescue her faltering campaign for president. One day she declared that computer experts had uncovered a "covert server linking" Donald Trump's campaign with a Russian bank named Alpha Bank. She was in an ideal position to know about that relationship because she paid her spies to fabricate it.

Durham's filing against Clinton lawyer Michael Sussmann in February of 2022 exposed the fact that a tech executive hired by Clinton's Campaign spied on Trump as both candidate and president. With the assistance of a team of researchers at Georgia Tech University, the Clinton Spy Network mined and analyzed all internet traffic flowing to and from Trump and his staff at both Trump Tower and the Oval Office.

This latest filing of Special Counsel John Durham alleges that Tech Executive Rodney Joffe of Neustar and his associates at Georgia Tech were paid by Hillary Clinton, through Sussmann, to illegally intercept Trump's Internet traffic from his offices at Trump Tower in New York City. They also continued to do so from the Oval Office after Trump was elected president and assumed office.

The Clinton Spy Network always had two distinct goals: The first was a campaign to smear Donald Trump with false allegations and improve Hillary's chances of being elected president in 2016; And the second was to destroy Trump's Presidency and facilitate his removal from office in the event he defeated Hillary.

Durham's recent court filing suggests that much of the internet traffic analyzed by the Clinton Spy Network was misinterpreted. Yet, this didn't matter to Clinton and her co-conspirators: they only needed to generate enough suspicion to enable Obama's corrupt DOJ and FBI holdovers to apply for FISA warrants to conduct a fishing expedition into Trump's campaign and presidency.

The second goal evolved into a "soft coup" in which Clinton loyalists in the DOJ and FBI were enlisted to frame Trump with the phony charge of "colluding with Russia" to steal the 2016 election. Their fraudulent investigation continued until Trump was finally vindicated by the Mueller Report, reluctantly written by his enemies in 2019.

The Clinton Spy Network was a REAL "attack on democracy" by REAL domestic enemies. It involved a treasonous attempt to criminally and unconstitutionally remove a duly-elected president by Hillary's New Communist Party of the USA, an organization with long tentacles.
