

Democrat Xanadu

(Apologies to Samuel Taylor Coleridge)

In Washington, have Democrats a corrupt regime constructed;
where traitors, crooks and sewer-rats
in league with slimy bureaucrats, see that all reform's obstructed.

Here slithy swamp creatures do roam
at great expense with little gain;
content to call swamp-waters home
defiling our Capitol Dome,
while leaving their enduring stain.

Quite undeterred by inflation or by our $30 Trillion debt;
welcoming Third World invasion
and illegal immigration, plus all the ills these things beget.

None are so low as those who'd steal
their society's election;
creating wounds that never heal straying afar from the ideal, using those with dark complexion.

--Earl P. Holt III