

Uvalde's Slaughter

by Earl P. Holt III

When the corrupt leftist media (CLM) engage in a predictable “feeding frenzy” following each tragic school shooting, they have one purpose in mind and it doesn’t involve sympathy for the victims: their agenda is to force gun control upon a shocked and horrified nation, too numb to resist.

However, their reportage is ironic and hypocritical because the CLM is, itself, partly responsible for many of these violent incidents. Perpetrators of these horrors are immune to any kind of gun control legislation, but not to the verminous influences of the corrupt leftist media.

Even stupid and unreasonable people should recognize by now that when the CLM collaborate to make a tragic school shooting the lead story for days on end, they greatly increase the likelihood that some other, equally disturbed and violent narcissist will eventually repeat the identical scenario in order to lay claim to his own 15 minutes of infamy.

The day before their treachery in 1999, the two narcissists responsible for the carnage at Columbine High in Littleton, Colorado recorded a videotape in which they spoke of their own immortality and “fame,” and in which they recommended certain Hollywood directors to make the movie of their lives! Clearly, the notoriety generated by the CLM's relentless coverage of these tragedies inspires certain deranged adolescents to launch their careers of mass murderer.

Secondly, prolonged exposure to violent images in the entertainment industry – particularly television, movies, video games and “rap” music

-- "desensitizes" impressionable youth to violence and murder. After one has vaporized thousands of video enemies, or cheered the slaughter of legions in the latest toxic release by Hollywood Shylocks, it is a very brief and easy transition to the three-dimensional world of one's perceived enemies.

Most teenagers and young adults have little conception of their own mortality. Indeed, it's probably fair to say that until one has lost a parent, spouse or close family member, death remains a mere abstraction and its finality underappreciated by callow individuals. In fact, many school shootings are actually murder-suicides, whose perpetrators not only fail to understand the horror visited upon their victims, but also that ultimately brought upon themselves.

Third, the CLM and their co-conspirators in the entertainment industry and the public education swindle have bombarded students with traitorous messages attacking our culture as unjust, evil and not worth preserving. Moreover, students are taught they have no future thanks to systemic racism. Oh, and the world is going to end in 10 years due to "climate change," anyway. This generates no small amount of confusion and alienation.

Finally, it is an empirical fact that violent criminals prefer unarmed victims. This fact is reflected in the life-work of Professor Gary Kleck of Florida State University, who has demonstrated that between two and three million violent felonies per year are deterred by armed citizens merely displaying a firearm.

Yet, nowhere in the U.S. is there a more disarmed and vulnerable group of potential victims than in our schools. Schools are "soft targets" that stand as an open invitation to any disturbed and violent predator who can obtain a firearm, and turn a school into a shooting gallery. Mass murderers don't shoot up police stations or gun stores, they seek out unarmed populations and soft targets.

However, the very dolts and bed-wetters who now wring their hands over each school shooting are the same people who would shriek the loudest if a select number of school officials (or parental volunteers) were permitted to arm themselves, in what would be the single, most effective means of deterring future incidents of such violence in schools.

As the left has done so frequently in other contexts, in the case of school shootings, they propose solutions that cannot work to resolve problems they, themselves have helped create and perpetuate.
