

Nigro Logic

There's an ad running on cable TV for some phony leftist community organizing group named Youth Advocate Programs. It seeks alternatives to incarceration, so it's probably run by the same lunatics who promote de-funding the police, eliminating cash bail, granting early release of violent felons, and de-criminalizing shop-lifting.

Its pitchman is a dull looking n*gger about 25 years old with a smile as crooked as his soul, who declares, "I did some stupid things and committed some crimes, but I'm not a criminal." He says this with a sneer, probably because even he knows it's just another get-over and "con" dreamed up by them white folkses.

His use of "n*gger logic" is intended to reassure other felons, and help them recover the positive self-image they may have lost in prison or after a misspent youth full of criminal misdeeds. Inspired by his reasoning, the following individuals might have stated the following if only they were still alive:

Willie Sutton: "I robbed over 100 banks in my career, but I'm not a bank-robber."

Bernie Madoff: "I made off with billions I embezzled from trusting clients, but I'm not a crook."

Jeffrey Dahmer: "I killed, dismembered and ate 17 victims, but I'm not a cannibal."

Ted Bundy: "I raped and strangled to death 30 women in seven states, but I'm really a feminist at heart, and not a misogynist."

Julius Rosenberg: "I gave Stalin the blueprints for the atomic bomb, but I'm really an American patriot."

Joe Biden: "I received millions from Hunter's influence peddling and extortion racket all over the globe, but our family is not an organized crime syndicate."
