

Voting with Their FEET !

During the Cold War, when malevolent governments within the Soviet Bloc became too oppressive to tolerate, their citizens often risked their lives by attempting to flee to the West. No legitimate plebiscite existed to vent their displeasure, so their only option was to "vote with their feet," an expression coined by America's conservative press.

A similar phenomenon is currently taking place in many of America's largest cities. Their residents are fleeing to less populated suburbs and "exurbs," and abandoning the dangerous and declining larger BLUE cities controlled by blacks and other idiots. Their reasons are similar to those refugees who fled the Soviet Bloc: they are fleeing fraudulent elections, corrupt and oppressive government and seeking greater safety.

According to data from the Census Bureau, nearly half of all U.S. counties with populations greater than 500,000 experienced a loss of population in the last two years. Meanwhile, smaller suburbs often gained population at the expense of larger, adjacent metropolitan areas. Among America's 10 largest municipalities, only Phoenix and San Antonio experienced net growth.

Most of the largest U.S. cities experienced significant population losses. New York City had the greatest decline and lost more than 300,000 residents in 2021. Likewise, San Francisco had the greatest percentage loss at 6.3 percent after a decline in population of 54,000 residents. Los Angeles and Chicago each had "net" losses of about 40,000 residents.

According to one economist, this demographic shift occurred because "People don't necessarily have to live close to work anymore." This guy is so oblivious to national politics and the events of the past two years that he could get a job on the Biden Administration's Council of Economic Advisors.

I don't know how any "economist" could be that obtuse, but most Americans are fleeing large municipalities because they are governed by incompetent black morons. As a consequence, they are dangerous, they are infested with voter fraud, their city services are terrible, their schools are atrocious, and they are made even less attractive by high tax rates to support the graft and corruption of city officials. Most large cities are in obvious decline.

Likewise, many large cities have adopted "woke" criminal justice "reforms" such as de-funding their police, eliminating cash bail, early release of felons from jail, and the de-criminalization of theft below $1,000. The stupid n*gger DA in Manhattan has even refused to prosecute ARMED ROBBERY if there is no discharge of a firearm. Many cities have also ceased to prosecute lesser violations such as shop-lifting, disturbing the peace and making criminal threats.

Meanwhile, all have enacted strict gun control ordinances that leave honest citizens at the mercy of violent n*gger criminals. It is no coincidence that most large cities in the U.S. have experienced new records for homicides and other violent crimes in the past year or two, along with their declining populations.

As one elder statesman in the race realism movement once remarked (paraphrase,) "*Nothing cures an enthusiasm for integration like a good dose of n*ggers.*"
