

Too Many Monkeys & Typewriters

by Earl P. Holt III

There's an old adage that if you corralled enough monkeys and enough typewriters, one of them would -- by chance alone -- eventually reproduce the works of Shakespeare. However, black academics in America's so-called "Institutions of Higher Learning" have pretty thoroughly disproved that theory, forever. A good example why are their recent efforts to "redefine" many things we take for granted.

There's no small element of irony in black academics redefining words in the English Lexicon, especially since blacks have never, themselves, invented a written language in the hundreds-of-thousands of years they've managed to walk upright. The phenomenon is made doubly ironic because they've already made a hash of English, which they've converted into a ridiculous patois they call "Ebonics."

According to the trouserred apes of academia, the following, seemingly benign things are indicative of racism and prejudice: Correct answers in Math; Efficiency in completing an assigned task; The white nuclear family; Meritocracies of any kind; The Protestant Ethic; Accurate record keeping; Objectivity and the scientific method; Mathematics; Christianity; The Constitution; Owning dogs; Classical music; Patriotism; The U.S. Flag; Medicine; Medieval studies; Farmers; Markets; Surfing; P, B & J sandwiches; And milk.

I won't bother to cite the sources for these claims, because there's no point in subjecting oneself to reading the gibberish of gibbons. What their ridiculous claims really tell us is that blacks are no more capable of understanding, appreciating or assimilating into a modern, complex and technologically sophisticated civilization than ancient Alchemists were able to convert lead into gold. There's a very real gap of perhaps, several hundred thousand years of evolution between us.

No reader of my work needs to be told that blacks do poorly in Math, science, or any exercise requiring objectivity. Disparities between blacks and whites in academic achievement are even more pronounced in Math than in verbal comparisons. Those primitive and under-evolved Frontal Lobes just aren't up to the task, or as a wise man once stated, "They're too soon out of the trees." Naturally, this compels these black "intellectuals" to jettison Math in favor of "Ethno-Math," where there don't be no rong ansers.

Likewise, the great achievements of Western Civilization that include Christianity, the Scientific Method, digitalization, the Constitution, impersonal markets, Medicine, and Mozart are seemingly well beyond their capacity to fully grasp. When your own civilization's history consists of dung huts, stone tools, hunting and gathering, cannibalism and female circumcisions ("clitoridectomies") -- but never the wheel -- that old devil ENVY has a strong tendency to rear its wooly head.

Their dislike for the Constitution, the Star-Spangled Banner, the American Flag and American patriotism are merely examples of that universally-recognized lack of gratitude found within the black race. They're just too stupid to appreciate the fact that they enjoy a higher standard of living than even the wealthiest of kings and monarchs of bygone eras. This is probably a Frontal Lobe phenomenon, as well.

The animosity they apparently feel toward meritocracies, the Protestant Ethic, accurate record-keeping, and the impulse to efficiently complete an assigned task are just evidence of sheer laziness. There's no point in sugar-coating it because we've all seen it.

The basis for their animus toward the white nuclear family is patently obvious. Illegitimacy is rampant among blacks in America, and few even know the identity of their fathers, so Father's Day is a very confusing holiday. Over 90% of all live, black births in our largest cities are illegitimate and about 80%, nationwide. Like most under-evolved species with primitive instincts, the white nuclear family makes their own subcultural cesspool compare very poorly, so they must destroy it.

What can one say about a race that feels the need to denounce milk, peanut butter-and-jelly sandwiches, surfing, farmers and owning dogs as pets? Clearly, black academics have too little to do and far too much time on their hands. Perhaps they should get second jobs doing domestic work, where their forebears actually showed some aptitude.

All joking aside, these frauds and poseurs are indoctrinating your college-age kids in Critical Race Theory or any other variety of Marxism that happens to be fashionable. You might as well burn that $40,000 per year tuition to heat your home, because that money is being squandered on babble and lies. That is, unless your kid is studying something useful like Engineering, Business or the Natural Sciences, where trousered apes are rarely found 'cause dey don' be liken dat maffamatics.

“We've all heard that a million monkeys banging on a million typewriters will eventually reproduce the entire works of Shakespeare. Now, thanks to the Internet, we know this is not true.”
