

America's Future ?

by Earl P. Holt III

As the New Communist Party of the USA (NCPUSA) blunders onward with its plans for a racial "reset" of America, let's take a gander at what that will mean for our nation's future and the lessons it affords us right now. The Central Business District of Johannesburg, South Africa is what America will look like in 25 years if these communists succeed with their agenda.

When apartheid ended in 1994 and South African whites foolishly granted full citizenship to a mentally and morally deficient race, an enormous fire broke out in Johannesburg's Central Business District (CBD) that killed at least 70 people. Its cause was probably arson, because it originated at 80 Albert Street -- office of the Non-European Affairs Department -- where blacks were required to apply for temporary passports during apartheid when their travel was restricted.

Johannesburg's CBD Aflame

Despite being unfit for human occupancy, the burned-out shells of many buildings in the former CBD have been abandoned by previous owners or the City of Johannesburg, and are now occupied by squatters. They were soon commandeered by black criminal gangs that extort "rent" from these otherwise homeless occupants. Theirs is hardly a traditional landlord--tenant relationship, however, since the gangs don't own the buildings, and every abandoned building lacks running water, sanitation, and legal electrical services.

Moreover, dozens upon dozens of squatters often live in a single room, and fires are common. The occupants build structures resembling huts within these buildings, and frequently cook on paraffin stoves. They also burn candles for light, or steal electricity from other sources. During winter, occupants often scavenge combustible materials from trash heaps, and burn them for fuel in large metal drums. Such conditions are about the best one can expect from a race with an average IQ between 60 and 65 across Africa, and which has never invented the wheel or a written language.

A couple of years ago, a photo-journalist named Shiraaz Mohamed managed to earn the trust of these primitive individuals and interviewed a few of them who were willing to talk to the news media or to government officials. They described the unsanitary conditions of their buildings, and how the smell of human waste pervaded each building because every empty space is eventually used as a toilet. Crime is rampant and alcohol and drugs are ubiquitous.

Many residents are illegal foreign nationals from across the continent of Africa, and are often without documents. Although the area is referred to as Johannesburg's "Central Business District" most businesses fled the area in 1994 when apartheid ended. Wealthier whites quickly escaped the CBD for the more exclusive and affluent northern suburbs. The CBD's buildings were then converted into low-rent apartment buildings, which quickly became slums inhabited by squatters.

Many were soon abandoned by their owners rather than pay the high property tax rates demanded by Johannesburg's city council, which often exceeded their value. These became properties of the city, which then assumed the responsibility for renovating them. Anyone who has lived in a city dominated by blacks can tell you from experience how far those particular efforts progressed...

Some private investment was attempted in the CBD, but most efforts were hamstrung because of interference by black officials in Johannesburg's city government. Among other obstacles, there is a law that obligates property owners to find alternative accommodations for those they intend to evict, even if they are illegal aliens. Other attempts at renovation soon became tied up in South Africa's court systems.

So, 30 years after apartheid was abolished, South Africa's most populous city is now rife with homelessness, illegal aliens, criminal gangs, arson, drugs, unsanitary conditions, fleeing businesses, chronic electrical outages, high tax rates, a Central Business District that's become a slum, squatters occupying abandoned commercial buildings, and a corrupt and incompetent city government run by blacks. Does any of this sound familiar?

Johannesburg City Council Meeting

These are the identical problems that currently besiege America's large, urban areas run by OUR blacks. They are the same societal malignancies one finds in New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Atlanta, Jackson, Memphis, St. Louis, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Little Rock, San Francisco, L.A., etc., etc., etc. There are no exceptions where blacks run a large city government. It is clear they could screw up the Rock of Gibraltar if given even half a chance.

If our largest cities -- once considered the gems of our civilization -- look like this in 2023, imagine what they will look like in 2050 if we don't fight the NCPUSA's "racial reset." First and foremost, we must take away the NUMBER ONE electoral strategy of the NCPUSA, BLACK VOTER FRAUD. The NCPUSA turns a blind eye to black voter fraud because routine voter turnouts exceeding 125 percent benefit them decisively.

This is how a morally and mentally deficient tribe has managed to destroy the gems of our civilization. Johannesburg, South Africa stands as a terrifying glimpse at what the future holds in store for America if we don't end the destruction of our large, urban areas by incompetent and mentally deficient blacks.
