

Castro's Bastard Loses in Court

Canada's Federal Court recently ruled that Prime Minister Justin Trudeau's 2022 exercise of the Emergencies Act was "unreasonable" when used to disperse truckers protesting the government's COVID vaccine mandates. The court ruled that the invocation of the Emergency Act by Trudeau violated several articles of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms.

Calling themselves a "Convoy for Freedom" in January of 2022, Canadian truck-drivers who opposed Trudeau's nationwide vaccine mandates organized a cross-country protest. They intended to swarm Canada's Capitol of Ottawa as part of their protest and demonstration. Many were blinded with pepper spray and assaulted with stun grenades, and over 100 were arrested and jailed in Trudeau's heavy-handed approach to governing.

In a lengthy ruling, Justice Richard G. Mosley concluded that Trudeau's invocation of the Emergencies Act "does not bear the hallmarks of reasonableness — justification, transparency and intelligibility — and was not justified in relation to the relevant factual and legal constraints that were required to be taken into consideration."

Specifically, Judge Mosely ruled that Trudeau's use of the Emergencies Act violated Section 2(b) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, which is designed to protect freedom of thought, belief, opinion and expression. Trudeau's additional seizure of the bank accounts of 257 Canadian citizens was ruled to have violated Section 8 of the Charter that establishes immunity against unreasonable seizures.

Justin Trudeau's heavy-handed exercise of power shouldn't come as any surprise to knowledgeable people, because those instincts might very well reside in his DNA. There is good reason to believe that Justin Trudeau is the BASTARD SON of former communist Dictator Fidel

Castro of Cuba, resulting from a possible extramarital liaison between Castro and Trudeau's libertine mother, Margaret. You may decide for yourselves if this theory has any validity.

Like Father, Like Son

Note the similarities in each of their most prominent facial features. Eyebrows, eyes, chins, noses, teeth, mouths and cheeks are nearly identical. In fact, it's uncanny how much they resemble each other.

The above photo illustrates how close the communist dictator of Cuba was to the Trudeau Family that has misgoverned Canada for decades. Castro and the Trudeau's were so close, they occasionally vacationed together in the Caribbean, where Castro's liaison with Margaret Trudeau might have been consummated. Here, they appear to be fawning over another of Margaret's other children. (Above.)

This photo probably represents the happy couple with their cuckold, former Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau. (Both men are now deceased.). The two lovebirds may be happily gazing at photos of their love child, Justin, as he progresses into the tyrant that he would eventually become.

Pierre Trudeau probably couldn't cut-the-mustard with Margaret, who was 30 years younger, so she often found surrogates who could. (Reportedly, Ted Kennedy and Actor Ryan O'Neil were among the many lovers of Margaret Trudeau.)

Bear in mind, these are just my opinions that are offered. However, they are based on pretty compelling evidence that would seem to explain why Justin Trudeau bears such a striking physical resemblance to the Cuban dictator, and also why the two appear to have adopted such a similar approach to governing.
