

Gender Dystopia

by Earl P. Holt III

For 6,000 years of recorded history, no civilization has ever experienced difficulty distinguishing between men and women. The noted British legal scholar and jurist, William Blackstone, is often credited with the facetious remark that Britain's Parliament can do anything except make a woman a man. Yet, modern "feminism" has nearly succeeded in the reverse, and has done so with nothing more than its twisted and delusional propaganda.

Feminists -- The Ladies' Auxiliary of Marxism -- have promoted the laughable and delusional notion that "gender is a false construct." But, that claim never seems to apply when feminists are yammering for gender quotas, maternity leave, or other advantages and privileges for women. However, it's created a great deal of confusion and cognitive dissonance among those stupid enough to believe it.

It was this neurotic and delusional rejection of the very concept of "gender" by feminists that precipitated the ongoing controversy involving biological males competing as "transgenders" against biological females in athletic competitions. In the fevered minds of feminists, if gender distinctions are a "false construct," then there's no reason to separate athletic competitions between men and women, or retain those distinctions anywhere else. The highly-publicized career of Lia Thomas serves as a perfect illustration.

For three years, a biological male named William Thomas competed on the University of Pennsylvania's Men's Swim Team, and was ranked 462nd in the world at the 200-Meter Freestyle. His Senior Year, he became a transgender named "Lia Thomas" and joined the Women's Swim Team at Penn. He eventually won the NCAA Championship in the Women's 500-Meter Freestyle event because the cowards who govern the NCAA don't have the guts to stand up to the queer and pervert lobby.

Queer or transgendered circus freaks have always been perfectly free to compete against men rather than women in athletic competitions. Men have demonstrable physiological advantages over women, even if feminists are incapable of recognizing this fact. To sane individuals, whose minds are not contaminated by Marxist ideology, this should serve as a sufficient explanation for why men should not compete against women in athletic competitions any more than they should compete against children or old people.

Here's another, equally legitimate illustration: In 2003, Annika Sorenstam, the greatest woman golfer ever to pick up a club, entered a men's Professional Golf Association (PGA) tour event at The Colonial in Fort Worth, Texas. For at least a decade, Sorenstam had dominated the Women's PGA tour, much like Jack Nicklaus or Tiger Woods dominated the men's tour at different times.

At The Colonial, Sorenstam posted what for most talented, amateur golfers would be quite respectable scores of 71 and 76, but finished 96th out of the 107 male professionals who entered the tournament. She did manage to better the scores of 11 men, although she failed to make the Friday "cut" that would have permitted her to play on the weekend and receive prize money.

Now retired, Sorenstam is happily married with children and too much of an adult to grandstand about women or gender, as feminists tediously and routinely attempt to do. After tearing up the women's tour, it seems that she was merely curious to see how she might fare against men in competition. Doubtless, she learned that the courses the men play are far longer and more difficult, and the pin-placements and speed of the greens are intentionally made more difficult than those on the women's tour. (Btw, the same can be said of the men's Senior Tour.)

This is reminiscent of the time that the championship 2017 Women's World Cup soccer team competed against a Dallas team consisting of boys 15 years of age or younger, in order to prepare for an upcoming match against Russia. The boy's team beat them 5 to 2, although the talented 2017 U.S. Women's World Cup Team went on to win its coveted World Cup championship that year.

It's really a very simple task to objectively determine gender for the purposes of athletic competitions, and doesn't require DNA testing. Biological males have an "X" and a "Y" chromosome in their cell nuclei, while women have two "X" chromosomes in theirs. Although Biden's black nominee to the Supreme Court doesn't know this, every white, high school biology student does.

Allowing transgendered males to compete at any level against biological females in athletic competitions merely exposes the cowardice and lack of principle found among the quislings who permit such unfair competitions. What these "transgendered" are really demanding is the right to WIN athletic competitions -- not merely compete -- where they have a pronounced advantage.

Hopefully, young women will recognize that the seeds of this outrage were sown by the very "feminists" who falsely claim to be their advocates and defenders. On the other hand, Donald Trump and courageous women like Riley Gaines are their TRUE DEFENDERS.
