

White Skin “Privilege”

There has been a great deal of soul-searching among leftists on the issue of “white skin privilege.” In recent years at many of our so-called “institutions of higher learning,” Cultural Marxists have routinely shamed white students by denouncing their “whiteness” and forcing them to attend the equivalent of Soviet-style reeducation camps. Some were even forced to wear some visible indication of their “white guilt.”

It's only fair to concede that whites DO get to experience certain privileges that few others have an opportunity to share. For example, those who have the privilege of living in what are euphemistically called “changing neighborhoods” are immediately introduced to the soothing lyrics of every new rap song – played at 200 decibels – courtesy of just about every driver of color under the age of 25.

Likewise, whites have the privilege of seeing the equity in their homes evaporate with each black family that moves into the neighborhood. Soon thereafter, they have the added privilege of seeing their homes, vehicles and belongings become a target for thieves and vandals by an army of soulless black teenagers.

Another white privilege is that of paying property taxes to support the local public schools, where black students are about as interested in learning as they are in sexual abstinence. It's an added bonus to see your bright-but-undersized kid get rolled for his lunch money by thuggish 19 year-old, 200-pound black Sophomores.

One privilege that gets far too little publicity is the privilege of paying income taxes to an often corrupt federal government in order to feed, house, cloth, educate and provide health care for that 50% of the black population that is totally addicted to welfare in all its varied forms. Most of them would be stacked along the highways like chord-wood were it not for the generosity of white people.

It is also a unique privilege enjoyed by whites to occasionally lose one's way while navigating our "large, urban areas," and suddenly find oneself surrounded by a pack of savage, snarling and menacing beasts with violent intentions, much like being in a Tarzan film or a Tom Wolfe novel.

"Yum, yum, eat 'em up"

Another privilege given little consideration involves the enormous costs associated with so-called “higher education.” Here, white parents and students have the rare privilege of going into hock for decades in order to pay not only their own tuition expenses, but also those of black “scholarship” recipients. In the process, we also get to experience the privilege of funding the salaries of black faculty members possessing all the erudition and scholarship of a Maxine Waters.

Until recently, thanks to Donald Trump, it was also a privilege unique to white people to watch helplessly as blacks with less aptitude, lower I.Q.s, and far less work ethic were hired or promoted before more qualified whites or Asians. Blacks tell each other that they have to be “twice as good as whites” to get a particular job, when all that was really required under DEI was a dark complexion and a pulse.

These privileges enjoyed by whites are made particularly special because of the gratitude routinely demonstrated by blacks. The latter are always willing to go out of their way to show their appreciation for all that white people do for them and have done for them since the mid-1960s, when most major welfare programs were created.

All those cowardly and simpering white “educators” who enable this crap are correct: white skin privilege DOES exist, just not in the manner they allege.
