

Too Smart by Half

by Earl P. Holt III

New York City (NYC) residents have traditionally viewed themselves as smart and sophisticated, which may have been true at one time. It's not true any longer, a fact glaringly evident in the parade of douchebags that New Yorkers have routinely elected mayor in recent decades. The elections of David Dinkins, Bill de Blasio, and Eric Adams prove that NYC has experienced a profound brain-drain. Even worse, in November of 2025, NYC appears to be hell-bent on electing a mayor who is a communist, an Islamist, and a pathological liar.

Unmitigated Disasters

Dinkins, de Blasio, Adams....and Mamdani (?)

This series of incompetent mayors has driven many of the brightest and most talented people from NYC, and they've taken $13 Billion in annual tax revenues with them. The many who abandoned NYC have "voted with their feet" by moving to states with less onerous tax rates, smarter government, a better business climate, and less squalor. This has left a residual population of NYC residents who are simply too stupid, too corrupt, or too ignorant to recognize the impending disaster that awaits them once they elect Zohran Mamdani.

In general, one particular demographic that is simply too stupid to make an informed choice is NYC's black population. They grab all the free stuff they can, while contributing little or nothing. NYC's concentration of n*ggers on welfare renders it nearly incapable of electing anyone of substance to public office, like a Rudy Giuliani. Those days are over. N*ggers think they are smart, but 120 years of IQ testing has consistently proved otherwise.

Although Mamdani is clearly an Islamist and antisemite, he has many supporters among Jewish communists who reside in NYC. Most have long ago abandoned the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and now worship only at the altar of Marx, Lenin, and Saul Alinsky. Often, they can be found demonstrating against Trump, or in support of Hamas, the Palestinians, or Zohran Mamdani. They are a disgrace to their nation, their city, and their religion.

(You Thought the CPUSA Died When the Berlin Wall Fell?)

Another demographic full of Mamdani supporters are NYC's so-called "Democrats." Many think they are democratic, although most are infinitely closer to Bolsheviks. To support a communist like Mamdani proves this to anyone with a brain, although those with brains don't need any further proof. They've already witnessed NYC's bloated Voter Registration Rolls, teeming with registered voters who are illegal aliens, two-timers from Philadelphia and New Jersey, fictitious voters, and household pets.

Another demographic that's like an anchor on a speed boat are NYC's "Stepford Children." These are over-educated New Yorkers under the age of 30, who believe they are entitled to live in Manhattan with the same standard-of-living as their parents. Some bright person once quipped that "the more educated New Yorkers are, the dumber they vote." Stepford Children will never be content until they are given a rent-subsidized, four-bedroom apartment overlooking Central Park. Mamdani has been sufficiently vague, so each of them is dumb enough to believe he will deliver on that campaign "promise."

Douchebag "Celebrities" Supporting Mamdani

Another sure-fire group of Mamdani supporters are illegal aliens. They have already been issued ID Cards to vote in NYC's municipal elections, and can't wait to "exercise the franchise." Zohran-the-Moron has vowed to retain NYC's sanctuary status in defiance of ICE and Donald Trump. Many NYC illegals feel they are entitled to vote, even if they don't speak English and couldn't pass a basic civics test. They also recognize that they couldn't be any more incompetent at choosing a mayor than the idiots who elected David Dinkins, Bill de Blasio, or Eric Adams.

NYC's fate is probably sealed, because its concentration of idiots, America-haters, greedy takers, communists, nudists, vegetarians, and the self-entitled is too great for the city to ever recover from such a blow. This is illustrated each time Jesse Waters of Fox News sends Johnny to some local beach to ask a few VERY basic civics questions of beach-goers. For example:

"From what nation did America gain its independence?" (Several answered "China," and one answered "France," while another answered "North versus South.")

"What monarch did we defy during the Revolution?" ("King Tut" and "King Midas" were among many moronic responses.)

"Who was America's first president?" ("George Bush" was a common response.)

I rest my case. A pox upon all those who choose to stay in NYC. You deserve the fate that awaits you. You've had it coming for a long time, and it's not as if you weren't given adequate warning...
